SMASH HUGE BOOTLEG RING IN NEW YORK

CLIQUE TOOK DAILY ORDERS OF $240,000

Federal Agents and Police Arrest 13 Suspected Members in Raid

UNCOVER CODE SYSTEM

Rum Runners Use Torn $1 Bills as Evidence in Delivery of Goods

New York (AP)—A big bootleg ring smashed by raids here took orders for 4,800 cases of Scotch whiskey worth $240,000 in a single day, deposited as much as $200,000 in one bank a month and received at least one letter of credit for $50,000, it is revealed by federal attorney Buchner.

Cable and signal codes, maps, charting and routes used by rum ships, bills for huge quantities of liquor labels and evidence that members of the ring have brokerage accounts running into substantial figures were found by the leaders. Thirteen men regarded as members of the ring were arrested by federal agents and police in two raids on offices of a pseudo real estate firm in the theatrical district Wednesday. Fourteen others are being sought.

With records of large liquor purchases in Rum Row, Mr. Buchner said he had several $1 bills torn in half. On parts of the bills that matrone were such notations as "599 cases" and "1,000 cases." The rum runners sent out from shore presented half of the torn bill to the skipper of the rum ship chartered by the syndicate. The skipper had the other half of the bill and the runner got his liquor.

The code used in cable messages and to signal rum ships from shore follows:

- Wuvne—American whiskey.
- Wuvur—Alcohol-American.
- Wulr—Gin.
- Wuos—Scotch whiskey.
- Wuzto—Everything very satisfactory.
- Wydyg—One half cargo unloaded.
- Wykko—Aquitain.
- Wykko—Borengaria.
- Wykno—Majestic.
- Wykup—Olympic.

General Lincoln C. Andrews, new prohibition administrator, is here to aid Mr. Buchner in prosecuting the ring.

GERMANS NAME STRINGS TO SECURITY PACT IDEA

Berlin (AP)—The German delegates to the security conference invitation to which was accepted by the cabinet Thursday, are expected to carry on important private conversations with the allied statesmen while the negotiations for the security pact are proceeding.

In fact, interest in political circles here centers quite as much in these private talks as in the formal conversations on the security issue.

The Germans at the forthcoming meeting, the date and site for which are yet to be fixed, will stress privately that hand in hand with the security pact must go the following:

"Reduction of Germany's burden of maintaining occupational forces; immediate evacuation of the Cologne bridgehead, held by the British; advancement of the plebiscite in the Saar valley to a date earlier than provided in the Versailles treaty; rescinding of the League of Nations decision to conduct investigations in Germany sees merely a perpetuation of the military control commission idea.

CONFESSOR SLAYER AND PALS BREAK FROM JAIL

Snow Hill, Md. (AP)—James Baker, 22, confessed slayer of James Carey, aged recluse of Whiteville, Md., last July, and three other prisoners, escaped from the Worcester jail here late Thursday night. Dennis Fazella, alleged automobile thief, was recaptured Friday forenoon near Crisfield, Md. He was suffering from a broken ankle.

Unlocking the door of the cage the men made their way to the top of the cage and escaped through a small window from which they had removed the grating.

HOLDUP STUNT ACTRESS MEETS REAL BANDITS

New York (AP)—Nora Bayes, vaudeville actress, who used to do a comedy holdup stunt on the stage, was suffering Friday from the shock of a real holdup by four armed men who mauled and threatened her in an attempt to strip her of her jewelry.

The men surrounded Miss Bayes' automobile as it drew up in front of her home Thursday night. Her chauffeur, John Carlo, grappled with one of the bandits, and was shot in the right side. The robbers fled in a waiting automobile.

Attracted by the shot, Benjamin Friedman, Miss Bayes' fifth husband, rushed from their home. He called an ambulance for Carlo and assisted his wife into the house.

RADICALS PROFIT BY SPECULATING ON WALL STREET

Socialist Who Snubbed Big Inheritance Aiding Cause of Socialists

New York (AP)—Radical organizations receiving assistance from a fund created by Charles Garland of North Carver, Mass., "to fight capitalism," have made more than $1,000,000 in Wall Street in the last two years.

The American Fund for Public Service has increased from $300,000 to $1,500,000. Morris Ernst, counsel for the foundation, revealed Friday, despite the fact that $500,000 has been given away to various radical organizations and publications.

Dr. Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for mayor, described the fund's success in making money in Wall Street as one of the greatest jokes of the season.

Garland, Harvard graduate and Socialist, established the fund in 1922 with the $300,000 he refused to accept as his share of the estate of his father, James A. Garland, Boston millionaire. He is now living on a farm near Easton, Pa. "Private property is the main cause of unhappiness," Garland said at the time.

"The longer you have money the harder it is to see straight."

The growth of the fund was revealed in connection with an announcement that, broadcasting rights for stated periods daily are to be purchased in a radio station with about $30,000 of the fund. Radical and liberal discussions of politics, sociology and economics will be broadcast.

FIND SLAIN FARMER WITH BULLET IN BODY

Iron River, Mich. (AP)—The body of John Faneslaski, farmer, who lived alone near Saunders, Wis., was found in a field about a quarter of a mile from the home of Joseph Becos, in the same locality Friday morning. The man has been shot through the abdomen and had been dead several hours. Whether the man was murdered or was a suicide is not known.

REPORT GUNMEN TRY TO ROB FAIRBANKS' HOME

Los Angeles, Calif. (AP)—What was described by the watchman at the house of Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford as an attempt by four gunmen to break into the Pickford-Fairbanks home at Berkeley Hills, near here was reported to the police early Friday. Police are investigating.

HAGEN FINISHES FIRST HALF ON EQUAL TERMS

Chicago, Ill. (AP)—Walter Hagen, defending his title as professional golf champion at Olympic Fields Country club Friday, finished the first 18 holes of the semi-finals on even terms with Harry Cooper, of Dallas, while Bill Mehlhorn of Chicago, got a lead of 1 up over Monte Duara of Aberdeen, Washington.

MILWAUKEE ROADHOUSE CLOSED BY INJUNCTION

Milwaukee (AP)—A temporary injunction closing the Midway Inn, one of the roadhouses on the outskirts of Milwaukee, was granted late Thursday.

Fear Of Credit Boycott Driving France To Terms

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1925, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C. — France will settle. And after so many protestations of inability why is there at last a definite desire to arrange payments? This question must occur to many as the French mission headed by Joseph Caillaux, minister of finance, gives out optimistic statements forecasting a settlement.

The answer is to be found in the international credit situation and the plethora of American private funds ready for investment. The French government not only needs money now but will need large sums in the next few years to refund her internal obligations which now require a high interest payment. If France can reduce the cost of borrowing both at home and abroad, she will save many millions of dollars annually. The terms which the American government will give France are not radically different from those which were given Belgium. But almost any reasonable terms are desirable from the French viewpoint.

American officials expect that as soon as the debt question is settled, the French will be in the market for large loans and that these loans probably will be obtained at a relatively low interest rate compared to what the French would have to pay if they didn't settle their debt. And the French can borrow money for long or short terms at better rates than they didn't clear the debt of the American debt problem.

What's more, the situation has come to such a point that France faced an absolute boycott on the part of the American capitalists who had been persuaded by the American government to make no loans until the war debt was settled. Under the circumstances the French had no alternative. They had to settle.

In sending Caillaux to this country with a mission composed of the leading members of the French parliament.

GOVERNOR URGES EASY STANDARDS AT UNIVERSITY

Says College That Boasts of Freshman Failures Is Like Boast of Failing Physician

Madison (AP)—In welcoming new students to the University of Wisconsin, Governor Blaine Friday suggested that the service of the university to the state should be widened and asked the student to cooperate with Dr. Glenn Frank, the new president.

The executive spoke at the sixth annual varsity welcome. The function of the university, he said, "is to carry its knowledge and service to the people." Standards of admission should not be used to exclude those who might profit from the university, he asserted.

"The university must have its ideals and it must hold to them with a tenacity that will call forth sacrifice if need be," Governor Blaine said. "It should develop not merely tolerant liberalism, but a liberalism that has a critical and constructive imagination."

The executive said he concurred in the thoughts that faculty members should be young enough to possess open minds and a large capacity for growth that faculty members should set a high value on scholarship, a higher value on human ability and a still higher value upon human character; that "a college that boasts that one-third of its freshmen fail is no more sensible and humane than a doctor who boasts that one-third of his patients die" and that "the moment standards of admission are used for the purpose of excluding from college those who might otherwise enter and profit from the work therein, they become instruments of the merest intellectual snobbery."

TAXICAB CRASH REVEALS DEAD PERSON'S BODY

New York (AP)—Collision of a sedan and a taxicab on the upper east side Friday resulted in the discovery of a man's body in the automobile which was deserted by three occupants after the crash. The dead man had been shot through the head.

Police believe that three men in the sedan were driving it to the east river with the intention of sinking it to conceal the murder. A Jewish prayer book and $1,430 were found in the dead man's pockets.

RUMANIA HAS BIGGEST OIL BOOM IN HISTORY

Bucharest, Rumania (AP)—Rumania seems likely to experience the greatest oil boom in her history. The big well of the Romane American company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co., which recently was on fire and burned for 50 days with the destruction of a million dollars' worth of crude oil, today is gushing 12,000 barrels daily. It is considered likely that deep drilling will lead to the discovery of further oil in large quantities.

TURK BRIDEGROOM ACTUALLY SEES HIS BRIDE AT WEDDING

Constantinople (AP)—Constantinople has witnessed its first Turkish wedding with both bride and groom present. A generation ago even the engagement of two young persons was arranged entirely by their families and the bride and groom never saw one another until after the wedding.

The wedding was held in a clubhouse and was attended by about 200 persons, men and women. The bride's face was entirely exposed.

The priest asked the girl if she would accept the man as her husband under a contract that he would present her with the sum of 150 liras or Turkish pounds, and a guarantee that in case of divorce he would present her with another 150 liras and one piaster. The bride answered in the affirmative and the groom did likewise to a similar question. Rings were exchanged and the priest pronounced the couple man and wife.

CRAZED WOMAN KILLS SELF AND HER BABY

Iron Mountain, Mich. (AP)—Insane from brooding over the fact that she had dismissed her brother from her home in a fit of anger, Mrs. Clara Johnson, 23, wended her 11-months-old baby Velmo Thursday night and then blew her head off with a $0-30 Winchester carbine.

BABY FALLS INTO WINE JUG, CHOKES TO DEATH

Milwaukee (AP)—The nine-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shaurette of this city strangled to death Thursday night when he fell into a five-gallon crock being used to make wine.

HINT FRENCH DEBT OFFERS IN DISFAVOR

Funding Commissions Are Guests of Coolidge at White House Dinner

Washington, D. C. (AP)—Complete secrecy surrounded the nature of the settlement offer which has been submitted by the French debt commission as it entered upon the second day of the debt finding negotiations with the American commission.

Joseph Caillaux, the French minister of finance, and head of his government's commission, regards the offer for settlement of the four billion dollar French debt as a "definite proposal."

Under Secretary Winston, the American commission secretary, has announced that no "official proposal" was before the American commission.

However definite or formal they may regard the French offer, it was declared at the same time from other quarters that to some of the American officials at least the French suggestions were unacceptable.

On the other hand, there was evidence that a majority of the American group were willing to use M. Caillaux's suggestions at least as a starting point for the discussions at Friday's midday meeting of the two commissions.

A Friday event, development of the first day, pointed to an intensive discussion Friday in the effort to find a mutually acceptable basis of negotiation.

Members of both the American and French commissions put aside their task Thursday night to attend a White House dinner as guests of the president.

REFUSE COMMENT

Friday's joint session was called after the president had met with his cabinet in the regular Friday conference was evident that some of the American delegates gathered around the conference table, separate meetings were held by the two groups to arrange for the exchanges which were to take place.

Notwithstanding the reaction Thursday the first French offer, it was evident that some of the American commissioners were willing to use it as a basis for further discussion.

Hardly more than 10 minutes was required for the second joint conference between the debt missions, which was described as having "made progress usual in such negotiations."

The French commissioners refuse to comment on the results of the brief session or the progress of the negotiations and treasury comment was limited to the brief statement of Mr. Winston.

"The Americans talked to the French today," was the description given at the treasury of the meeting.

"There are always proposals and counter proposals in such negotiations," Under Secretary Winston of the treasury secretary of the American debt commission said.

Immediately after the joint session was adjourned the American commission went into separate session and the French mission will meet later. Another joint session probably will be held Saturday.

PRISONERS BREAK JAIL AT WISCONSIN RAPIDS

Wisconsin Rapids (AP)—Earle C. Adams, 19, Louisville, Ky., and Leonard Raymond Helgemo, 19, Ironwood, Mich., under sentence to the state reformatory at Green Bay, escaped from the Woodcock jail Thursday night by sawing two of the inch thick steel bars to the cell room and dropping 20 feet to the ground.

Bloodhounds were placed on the trail but lost the scent after a short distance. It is the opinion of Sheriff Cliff Bluet that accomplices who are believed to have smuggled hack saw blades to the prisoners were waiting for them near the jail in a car.

Adams, who has a criminal record, had been sentenced to one year in the reformatory for larceny, while Helgemo faced an indeterminate sentence for taking indecent liberties with a minor child.

REPORT MOORS ARE TIRED OF WAR AND ASK CHIEF TO QUIT

Fez, French Morocco (AP)—It is officially announced that the right wing of the French forces Friday carried out a successful operation to the northeast of Kifane and in the general direction of Ajdir, Abd-El-Krim's capital, occupying position at Djebel Rouchm.

Reports from native sources indicate that there is uneasiness amounting almost to discouragement among certain large tribes supporting Abd-El-Krim, the Rifian war lord.

Some of the Branes Tzouls and other tribes which have not submitted to the French are reported to have sent delegates to Abd-El-Krim asking him to conclude an immediate peace with France. The Rifian leader is said to have replied that he was resolved to continue the war.

Los Angeles (AP)—Charles Ray Productions, Inc., organized several years ago to produce motion picture featuring the actor Charles Ray, was adjudged bankrupt in federal court here Thursday.

DRUGGAN PAL CONFESSES TO BRIBE CHARGE

Beer Maker Says He Paid $1,000 to Jail Warden's Aide for 'Privileges'

Chicago (AP)—Frank Lake, beer-maker and federal prisoner, confessed from the witness stand Friday that he and his partner, Terry Druggan paid $2,000 a month to Wesley Westbrook, former jail warden, and various sums to others and federal Judge Wilkerson ordered Westbrook, Mans Thompson, former assistant superintendent of the jail and Henry Foerster, formerly Westbrook's secretary, taken into custody. A deputy marshal was sent out for Westbrook who, the judge said, must be in court. The others were turned over to the marshal.

BOB LAFOLLETTE ENDS DRIVE AS DITHMAR STARTS

Senatorial Campaign Nearing Close With but Few Speeches Being Made

Milwaukee (AP)—Candidates for election as United States senator from Wisconsin on Sept. 29, went into the final sprint of the campaign Friday. Robert M. LaFollette, Republican nominee, assisted by Governor Blaine and Herman Ehren, attorney general, has virtually completed a swing around the state, the only one of the three active candidates to make an extensive speaking trip.

Edward F. Dithmar, independent with anti-LaFollette Republican backing, who came into the campaign after the primary is just getting started, Friday he speaks at Manitowish and Friday evening at Baraboo, his home town.

John M. Work, Socialist nominee, will speak in Milwaukee Friday night, taking to two open air meetings.

"So far as campaign activities are concerned young Bob has far outstripped his rivals for the office left vacant by the death of his father. Work has confined his campaign to talks in industrial centers combined with a mail campaign. Dithmar started only Wednesday night, after coming into the race following the withdrawal of Edward F. Wilcox, defeated for the Republican nomination but registered also as an independent.

William George Bruce, Democrat running as an independent and George Bauman, Socialist-Labor candidate, have not made a campaign.

FEAR ANOTHER COAL STRIKE IN ENGLAND

London (AP)—A recrudescence of the troubles days of the summer, when a strike of the coal miners threatened with the backing of the various trades organizations seems imminent.

The miners are upset over a decision by Premier Baldwin in which he accepted the contention of the mine owners in their dispute with the miners' federation of their right to reduce wages in certain regions. The miners contend that his decision is at variance with the agreement under which the government granted a subsidy of 10,000,000 pounds to mine owners to enable them to maintain the current scale of wages pending an inquiry by a royal commission into the entire coal situation.

FATHER, STEP-DAUGHTER CHARGED WITH MURDER

Waukegan, Ill. (AP)—Recommendation that Arthur Holt and Mrs. Clara Harcq, his step-daughter be held for grand jury action without bonds on murder charges in connection with the death of Mrs. Lillie Holt, the former's wife, was made by a coroner's jury Thursday night.

The jury heard evidence that the fatal shooting of Mrs. Holt came after a family quarrel. Her daughter and husband have maintained that she committed suicide, but examining physicians said the nature of the wounds precluded self inflection.

Albert Harcq, Clara's husband, was recommended held as an accessory before the fact. He is at liberty $5,000 bonds on this charge.

COUPLE KILLED, AUTO CRUSHED BY FREIGHT

Detroit, Mich. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Katlin, of Detroit, were killed early Friday morning when their automobile was struck by an interurban freight train. The machine was ground under the tracks of the front freight car and a wrecking crew had to be called before the bodies could be removed from the wreckage.

TWO CHILDREN IN ONE FAMILY DIE SAME DAY

Kenosha—Tragedy stalked into the home of Mrs. Grace Brookhouse twice in the same day here. Fred Brookhouse, year-old son, was drowned when he fell off the embankment in Lincoln park lagoon. John Brookhouse, 7 weeks old, died the same night of an illness which had lasted several days. The mother, whose husband died 10 months ago, was recovering from one shock when she found her youngest child dead in its cradle. There will be a double funeral Thursday afternoon.

DEFENDS U. S. NAVY POLICY IN AVIATION

Commander of Lost Seaplane Fails to Support Mitchell Defense Proposal

BLIMP WITNESS PRESSED

Colonel Hall Revises Testimony on Assumed Failure of Shenandoah Engines

EXPLAINS TESTIMONY

Lakehurst, N. J. (AP)—Conflicting testimony as to whether any of the helium gas cells gave way before the airship Shenandoah broke up was given Friday before the naval court of inquiry here.

San Francisco — Emphatic endorsement of an advisory air board, such as that called by President Coolidge to operate in conjunction with the navy and army departments for the development of this country's air service was voiced by Commander John Rodgers at a banquet tendered him and the four members of the crew of the navy seaplane P-8, No. 1, here Friday night. The air board which Commander Rodgers recommended would not have the breadth of power of that advised by Colonel William Mitchell.

Commander Rodgers staunchly defended the navy department in its conduct of the attempted San Francisco-Hawallian seaplane flight, and in the general in its handling of naval air affairs.

EXPLAINS TESTIMONY

Lakehurst, N. J. (AP)—Reexamined Friday before the naval court of inquiry, Col. C. G. Hall, United States army observer aboard the Shenandoah on her fatal flight said his statement of Thursday that the failure of two engines of the ship furnished a possible contributing cause to the disaster was more in the nature of an assumption than a statement of fact.

"Do you know at what time the engines failed?" asked Lieutenant Commander Rosendahl, senior surviving officer of the air ship.

"I do not know," was the reply.

"Was it after the uncontrolled rise began showing that we were in the corner of the storm?" pursued Commander Rosendahl.

"I cannot say," the army officer returned. "I thought all engines were going full speed until the ship was wrecked."

"What is your opinion as to the reliability of the Shenandoah's engines?"

"I believe there have been no more reliable aviation engines developed than those on the Shenandoah."

In his testimony Friday, Col. Hall expressed the opinion that the failure of two of the airships five engines made more probable the drawing of the big craft into the vortex of the storm which wrecked here after a spectacular flight of 15 minutes. One engine was because of a cracked cylinder and the other because of a radiator leakage.

LAND O' LAKES BODY TO MEET IN WAUSAU

Rhineland (AP)—Wausau has been named by President Burt Williams of the Wisconsin Land of Lakes association at the meeting place of the association's third annual conference to be held Oct. 14, it is announced here by Secretary E. O. Barstow.

Although conflicting with the annual meeting of the state Izaak Walton league at Green Bay on that date, it is believed there will be a large attendance at the Wausau gathering, as many matters of importance to the future welfare of the association will be taken up.

RELIGIOUS DAY SCHOOL TO OPEN TERM ON SEPT. 29

Religious Census Names 5,527 Youngsters Who Have Express Church Preference

Appleton's religious day school will open its fifth year on Sept. 29, according to an announcement Tuesday by Dr. J. R. Denyes of Lawrence college, who is in charge of the school. There will be a staff of five teachers, but these have not been definitely selected. Classes will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week, and the children will be taught a historical background of Biblical events, illustrated by Bible stories which will have a direct application to the child's own life. The religious day school is for children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, and is open to youngsters of all denominations. The churches cooperating in the school are the Methodist, Episcopal, German Methodist, Reformed, Congregational, Episcopal Presbyterian, Baptist, and Emanuel Evangelical.

STEADY GROWTH

The religious day school has grown steadily in Appleton during the four years of its existence according to Mr. Denyes. Last year 230 students were enrolled. Appleton was one of the first communities in Wisconsin to have a school and now thirty cities, towns, and villages of the state have the institutions and 600 communities in the United States boast such schools. The total number of pupils enrolled throughout the country last year was 200,000.

"Educational leaders in every state of the union are urging development of religious day schools," Dr. Denyes said. "They realize that the basis of good citizenship is religion, and that religion is a legitimate part of human education. This does not mean," continued Dr. Denyes, "that public school education would favor the state undertaking religious training, but the state should make it possible for our churches to share the time of the children and provide religious instruction."

TAKE CHURCH CENSUS

It is hoped to make transportation arrangements that will enable Fourth ward children to attend the religious day school this year, Dr. Denyes said. Last year much difficulty was experienced in getting these children to and from the school because of distance, and the attendance from the Fourth ward was small. One of the outstanding works under the auspices of the religious day school was the church census taken last July. This census shows a total of 5,527 Appleton children and young people between the ages of 4 and 20 who expressed a preference for one of the Appleton churches. It is a list of whether these young people were members of a church. These were young people who did not express a church preference, and 233 miscellaneous preferences for denominations not having a home in Appleton.

Officers and superintendents of churches and Sunday schools which are cooperating in the religious day school met some time ago, and selected 70 from the list of 471 young people counted as unaffiliated, with any church, as members of their churches or as having been connected with their churches at some time. The list as compiled by the census for each church or denomination will be taken to authorities in that church, so they will know definitely just how many young people have expressed a preference for their denomination. The list of unaffiliated young people, now numbering about 400, will be given to ministers and priests so they may determine if there are any names on this list which should be associated with their particular church.

The census showed the following church affiliations:

St. Joseph, 1451; St. Mary, 666; First Congregational, 535; St. Paul, 472; Sacred Heart, 392; Zion Lutheran, 305; First Methodist Episcopal, 231; Mount Olive Evangelical Lutheran, 279; First English Lutheran, 185; St. Matthew, 140; Memorial Presbyterian, 126; St. John Evangelical, 100; Trinity English Evangelical Lutheran, 98; First Baptist, 87; First Church of Christ Scientist, 80; Emanuel Evangelical, 88; Most Holy Trinity, 66; All Saints Episcopal, 61; Zion Temple, 37; First Reformed, 33; German Methodist Episcopal, 32; Salvation Army, 20; Seventh Day Adventist, 12.

A DETERRENT TO GUNMEN

The Milwaukee Clearing House banks have set a price on the heads of any persons who may in the future attempt or accomplish the robbery of any of those institutions.

If the robber is legally killed by any qualified officer of the law, or by an officer or employee of the bank, in resisting the robbery, effecting the arrest of the robber, or in preventing his escape, the person causing the death is eligible for a reward of $2,500. Information leading to the arrest and conviction of a Milwaukee Clearing House bank robber calls for a reward of $1,000.

The offer sounds rather cold and brutal on the face of it, but in fact it is not. It is merely fighting fire with fire. The fact that the offer has been made is being widely published as a warning to prospective bank robbers, and as notice to officers of the law that they will be rewarded for performing their duty toward these banks. It is the lure of easy reward that sends the gunmen out ready to slay, and risking death through resistance or the punishment of the law if he is captured. It seems only fair that those who are willing to take the risk of opposing the desperado in his raids should be liberally rewarded for so doing, and that they should be assured in advance that they will be rewarded.

The reward has we think the double value of offering a deterrent to those who may in the future speculate upon the possibilities of sudden riches without work, and as an incentive to the officers of the law and the bank employees to put forth their best efforts in thwarting such a robbery.

REMEDY FOR DIVORCE

Judge Joseph Sabath, Chicago, returning from a visit to European countries, including Czechoslovakia, believes he has found a legal remedy for the prevalence of divorce.

His program calls for no one under 25 years of age being permitted to marry, for a period of six weeks between an engagement and a wedding, and the requirement that all couples contemplating divorce discuss their differences before an impartial arbiter before filing action for separation.

His plan is to prevent early marriages, and hasty marriages, and then to prevent couples from rushing into a divorce suit without careful consideration. The Judge declares that in Czechoslovakia the process of getting married is very slow, involving a process of giving public notice for six weeks, posting the family history for two weeks, not to mention other forms of red tape.

Despite the fact that the plan is advocated by a judge who has heard more divorce cases than any other jurist in America, we fear he has not found a suitable plan for America yet. In Wisconsin a period of five days must elapse between the granting of the license and the marriage, and experience proves that the time is too long for many couples. The result is a stream of about to be married couples is continually moving toward the state line, and another stream of newly weds is moving back into Wisconsin from Illinois or Michigan.

We think that if any American state fixed the waiting period at six weeks, the out of state marriages would be so great as to make marriage in that state a novelty. The plan would not abolish the di-vorice, but it would go along way toward abolishing marriage within the state that attempted it.

THAT IS WHAT THEY LIKE

Abd-el Krim, chief of the Rifians, has offered rewards totaling $5,000 for every one of the American Volunteers, composing the Sherifian squadron, assisting the French in their operations in Africa.

This is an interesting bit of news for Americans, since it may be taken as a mark of special respect paid the little band of American adventurers who have cast their lot with the French army. While it may be said that the assistance given the French by Americans is not universally approved at home, it may also be said that it is difficult to think ill of the man who fares forth into new adventures and new dangers at every opportunity, or to despise the born warrior who is in every fight that lasts long enough to permit him to reach the scene of the battle.

So far as these fighting Americans are concerned, we think that the reward offered by the Rifian chief will only add zest to their undertaking. It is one thing to be an adventurer and another thing to be a romantic figure with a price offered for your head.

SCHOLARSHIP AND APPLAUSE

Members of this year's graduating class of the largest American university were asked which they would rather have won, the "Big C." representing athletic prowess, or the Phi Beta Kappa key, representing scholastic honor. They voted, two to one, for the athletic trophy.

It would be interesting to analyze the reasons for this apparently cynical choice. It was certainly not that these hundreds of intelligent and educated young men regarded muscle as more honorable than brains. Probably not one of them personally would admire a robust hod-carrier above the leader of one of the learned professions.

But it doubtless did indicate that they regarded prominence in the sight of their fellows as the most desirable human achievement. Under the competitive system, a successful athlete has had the chance to earn applause before audiences of tens or hundreds of thousands, and to have his name blazoned by the press to millions.

Scholarship, while admittedly a nobler achievement, brings no such reward. Measured by this standard, the choice, while not altruistic, was not foolish.

CRITICISM

Are you of the brand that is always on hand to pick other people to pieces? The world's full of folks who make sarcastic jokes on others. The habit never ceases.

How people get fun out of razzing that's done, is something I can't understand. What queer brand of pleasure that comes in full measure when someone is constantly panned.

This habit, adhered to, when folks are referred to, can only be harmful at best. We shout that and then a friend's gone amiss. Yea, we must get it off our chest.

It surely is so, and we all ought to know that there's nobody perfect, by far. The real type of friend is the one, in the end, who can praise folks, whatever they are.

Let's all put a halt to the finding of fault. Let's try a plan that is new. Put knocks on the shelf—you'll be savin' yourself, for, how near to perfect are YOU?

THE DISINFECTING OF WATER

The simplest and best way to sterilize or disinfect for drinking purpose water which may be polluted, is boiling for five minutes. Even just bringing the water to a boil and then letting it cool again will kill any disease germs which may be in the water. But in order to make sure of killing all germ life, in water-sterilization—the boiling must be kept up for five minutes. Even that is not considered sufficient to destroy certain spore bearing bacteria; in the practice of septic water is boiled five minutes on three consecutive days to insure complete sterilization. It is not very convenient to boil all the water in a well or cistern or spring, and besides, it wouldn't do much good to boil it if more water enters the same contaminated or polluted source right after the boiling. The best compromise we have available in such a case is chlorination of the water in the well, cistern or spring. For this purpose the common chloride of lime (chlorinated calcium hypochlorite) may be purchased in the can from drug or grocery stores. The can must be a sealed can, and the freshness and activity of the lime chloride is indicated by a very pungent odor of chlorine on opening the can. Chloride of lime deteriorates and becomes almost valueless as a germicide or disinfectant on long standing or exposure to the air. If it does so, the odor is not very pronounced.

The right dose of chloride of lime for disinfecting water in a well or other reservoir is one ounce to every thousand gallons of water. A moderately heaping tablespoonful of chloride of lime is about one ounce; such a tablespoonful is about an inch deep at the middle. That's easy enough. The problem that calls for the kind of arithmetic we don't learn in school is to estimate the amount of water in the well.

As a rough rule, the amount of water in well, cistern or tank may be assumed to be about six gallons for each foot of water in the well, in diameter 2 1/2 inches for two feet in diameter, 53 gallons for three feet, 94 gallons for four feet, 147 gallons for five feet, 212 gallons for six feet, 283 gallons for seven feet and 376 gallons for eight feet.

Do not drop the dry chloride of lime into the water, but first rub it up with a little water to make a thin paste, breaking up all lumps, and stir the paste into a bucket of water out of doors (to avoid the irritating chlorine fumes), then pour the bucketful into the well. This treatment gives a dosage of about two parts of chlorine to the million parts of water, which is generally considered sufficient for disinfecting drinking water. It must be repeated about as often as the capacity of the well has been withdrawn for use. There should be a slight taste of chlorine in the water.

For sterilizing small quantities of questionable water for drinking, in emergencies, rub up a rounded teaspoonful of chloride of lime with water into a smooth paste and dissolve the paste in enough water to fill a pint bottle. If this is a tablespoonful of the powder, the drinking water to be disinfected, and let the water stand half an hour at least before drinking.

Another excellent emergency disinfectant for drinking water of uncertain character is one or two drops of tincture of iodine shaken up with a quart of the water and allowed to stand 20 minutes before drinking.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Compression No Good

I have been wearing a rubber brassiere for the last few months, and I have suffered from the heat, but it has not reduced my bust one bit.... (D. E.)

Answer—You should not be impatient. Maybe you will note a slight reduction after you have kept up the compression four centuries. Meanwhile, console yourself with the reflection that Mr. Barnum was right.

Cancer.
What is the cause of cancer? What are the best precautions to avoid cancer? (M. A. H.)

Answer—Cancer is a specific disease and not a group of diseases, no specific cause has as yet been discovered. Prolonged slight irritation, from one thing or another seems to induce cancer ultimately in many cases.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Friday, Sept. 25, 1900.

Subscribers to stock of the Bell Watch Co., met at the city hall last evening and voted to locate a watch factory in this city. John Sherman acted as chairman of the meeting and A. H. Krugmeier as secretary. Trustees of the project were authorized to purchase two tracts of land in the Fifth ward and town of Grand Chute at a price not exceeding $53,000. Lots were to be sold at a price of $200 until $104,000 had been realized for erection of a plant.

Mrs. John Stevens, Jr., won the women's cup at Riverview Country club by defeating Mrs. O. C. Smith. The two men were tied at the end of the last match and settled the championship by playing another round.

The Pettibone-Peabody Co., closed a contract by which it secured the sale of the Maxwell automobile for this territory.

Twenty-five new members were received into the boys department of the Y. M. C. A., at a membership banquet the following Monday evening. Their names were: Francis Bradford, Leo Apel, John Bononi, Francis Gallagher, George Fraser, Thomas Helms, Raymond Bomler, Ross Havens, Harold Mitchell, Galloway, Cameron Bushy, Gerhardt Kubitz, Walter Russell, Howard Russell, Clyde Schroeder, Frank Gerhauser, Orville Saunders, Walter Wetzel, Carl Trever and Wallace Maxfield.

Nellie Wilson, the fast pacing mare owned by P. H. Miller of this city, was out of the races for the remainder of the season. The horse suffered a bad gash in the foot during a race at Fond du Lac.

A marriage license was issued to George Hagemann of Racine, and Anna Miller of Appleton. Richard Ornduff and Miss Rose Steigenberg were married at Port Washington, Aug. 1, according to word received here. The couple was to reside on College-ave after Oct. 1.

Mrs. E. P. Miller was to leave the following morning on a trip to Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

The Question Box

A Little Knowledge Is A Dangerous Thing.

He who knows but a little of everything and nothing completely remains a little being to the end of his days. Learn thoroughly! Learn completely! You can do this by attending our free school, the University of Information. We will answer any question of fact propounded to us. We can broaden your knowledge. Merely send your question to us, enclose a 2 cent stamp, and get ready for the answer. Send the question to The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. What 15-day period during the summer averages warmest in Washington? W. B. M.

A. The Weather Bureau says that the warmest 15-day period on the average is embraced between July 16 to 30 inclusive. During this time the average temperature is slightly more than 77 degrees.

Q. Has Mexico City an abnormal death rate? S. D. F.

A. Owing to the inadequate drainage and sewage systems and a soil permeated with the refuse of centuries, the city long had an annual death rate of 40 to every 1000 inhabitants, a larger proportion of mortality than in any other civilized city of the world. The conditions which promoted this high death rate have largely been remedied, and the city compares favorably with others in salubrity and in decreasing its death rate, though the unhygienic manner of life of the poorer classes avails the mortality. The city is naturally healthy and in its climatic conditions is a delightful place of residence.

Q. Where are the most valuable forests of the British Empire and are they more valuable than those of Germany? W. C.

A. The most valuable forests of the British Empire are in India. The latest report sets the amount of revenue, 1908 to 1909 as 1,697,120 pounds, approximately $7,000,000. The revenue from the forests of Germany in the same year was almost $100,000,000.

Q. Are divorces ever lawful in the State of South Carolina? C. S. A.

A. A statute was in force in South Carolina from 1874 to 1877 allowing a decree of divorce for certain causes but was repealed in the latter year. At present divorce in the State is prohibited by Article 17, Section 3, of the State Constitution.

Q. When presents are given at a birthday party, should they be opened or kept until the party is over? M. H.

A. It is customary to open a gift immediately upon its receipt. The fact that presents are offered at a birthday party does not affect that custom.

Q. What are the contents of "soda water"? L. S.

A. The term "soda water" originated when sodium bicarbonate was used in the original manufacture of aerated waters. Such waters are impregnated with carbon dioxide gas. In general, capsules containing liquefied carbon dioxide are used at the present time in the manufacture of these waters. The liquid which it is desired to impregnate with gas is placed in a specially constructed bottle, the top of which is provided with a receptacle for the capsule containing the liquefied gas; the covering of the capsule is then ruptured, setting free the acid which is absorbed by the liquid in the bottle.

Q. Who is the Sir Hubert in the quotation "Approbation from Sir Hubert is praise indeed"? A. M. J.

A. In the expression "Approbation from Sir Hubert Stanley is praise indeed," the reference is to Sir Hubert Stanley, an impoverished squire in Thomas Morton's play, "A Cure for the Heartache", 1797.

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

"FORTY YEARS OF IT"

To those who did not read it ten or fifteen years ago when it first appeared I heartily recommend "Forty Years of It," by Brand Whitlock. The book has just been reissued by Appleton's after it had been out of print for some time and it is now available again at a reasonable price to the general reader.

Brand Whitlock is to this day more a promise in American literature than a fulfillment. There are a number of cases of the kind. Don Quixote, author of "The Old Soak" and conductor of a famous newspaper column, recently complained that for 20 years he has been referred to as a writer of great promise. Very humanly he is dissatisfied with himself and wants to fulfil the long standing promise. But in his case as in the case of many others the practical business of making a living stands in the way.

The same has been true of Brand Whitlock. A quarter of a century ago Brand Whitlock already looked like a coming writer. That is, a coming great writer. In his youth he produced work that commands respect. William Dean Howells said once that Whitlock's "The Thirteenth District" was the best political novel written in America up to that time. He has written some short stories that are more than mere ephemeral magazine fodder. He has produced novels that while not entitled without reservation to the title of "great" are nevertheless promises of future great novels from the same pen—or seem to be such.

NEEDED THE MONEY

The war came and Whitlock, who had made a name for himself in Toledo politics, became America's representative in Belgium. "From the point of view of lovers of American literature he wasted his years as mayor of Toledo and it is possible that he feels that way about it, but like other writers he had to make a living." In Belgium he did not get the chance to write that he had hoped for, the war swallowed up that dream as it did many other dreams. Since the war he has written a two volume book on Belgium which in spite of its quality is more or less incidental literature, merely journalistic in its effect, and one novel which has not taken hold on the public mind.

He himself seems to be conscious of the fact that so far his career as an author is one of promise only and he said a year or two ago that he hoped some day to be able to touch the hem of the garment of literature, giving the impression that that would mean more to him than all the political honors he has enjoyed.

Perhaps in his heart he has given up the hope by this time. But ten or fifteen years ago when he wrote "Forty Years of It" he seemed to be standing at the threshold of a great literary career. He was 40 years old and he had become something of a celebrity in a vocation that was more or less irrelevant to his real self. And he saw that life of his—there first 30 years with a detachment and hence with a humor that are impossible to the person who takes himself entirely seriously in the role in which he has made his reputation.

The politician for instance who is a politician first and last could never see himself as Brand Whitlock does in this book. Having in his own view of things hardly begun his life at the age of 40, Brand Whitlock could not afford to look over the past and smile tolerantly about what he had done and what he had left undone. To him all the 40 years were probably merely a period of preparation for his real career. During those four decades he had become acquainted with life as it is actually being lived; he had collected the raw material for the books he would write. He was deeply interested in the events of those years largely because they were raw material for him. That he was mayor of Toledo was incidental but that as mayor he had opportunities to learn about life was important to him as a writer.

The book is fascinating reading; it can be read with interest by those who care only for Brand Whitlock the political figure as well as by those who attach importance to him as a writer of promise.

TEMPLE KNIGHTS PLAN TO ATTEND STATE CONCLAVE

More than 50 Appleton Knights Templar expect to go to Milwaukee on Oct. 13 and 14 to attend the sixty-seventh annual convocation of the order. Elaborate preparations are being made in Milwaukee for the reception of members of the order and they are planning to make the meeting one of the leading Wisconsin Masonic activities.

Special committees have charge of the reception of visitors and ladies. Luncheons will be served in the dining room of the cathedral. There will be competitive drills on the lake front, with prizes for winners, a downtown parade and a ball on the evening of Oct. 13 in the Arcadia ball room.

The local order is making plans for a gathering and ball to be held in the spring. Plans had been made to hold the ball this fall, but because of the date conflicting with the convocation at Milwaukee, it has been postponed until early in May.

CLUB DIRECTOR IS COMING BACK

Miss Martha Chandler, recreational director of Appleton Women's club, will return to Appleton Tuesday after spending her summer vacation in the east. Miss Chandler acted as camp director of a prominent girls' camp while in the east. She will be at the women's club rooms to visit with her friends on Tuesday morning.

SEEK LAND FOR RIGHT OF WAY FOR NEW STREET

City Plan Commission Seeks
Part of New Plat for Street to Parallel Tracks

Owners of the property south of the Chicago North Western tracks between Mueller and S. Mason-sts. have been asked to deed over to the city a strip of land 60 feet in width between the two streets and adjacent to the tracks. Just what action will be taken by them will be indicated shortly.

The suggestion that this strip be deeded to the city was made by the city plan commission of the plans submitted several years ago by Leonard C. Smith, city planner, which provided for a boulevard running alongside the tracks from the intersection of W. College-ave and S. Cherry-st to Appleton Junction.

It was recently made known that the owners of this property were about to plat the ground. If this were done and the property divided into lots up to the railroad tracks, it would seriously handicap the plans which the city now has to make that boulevard a reality.

If the city can gain possession of that ground now, the land can be divided, omitting the 60 feet next to the tracks from the division. If the city is given the deed to this strip, it will have a good start toward clearing the way for the construction of the boulevard later on.

Although the original plans of Mr. Smith provided for a strip 70 feet in width, the city commission is planning to secure the right to only 60 feet, holding that this width will be sufficient.

BIGGEST STATE GOLF CLUB HERE

Butte des Morts Organization
With 394 Members Out-strips All Others for Size

Butte des Morts Golf club not only is bringing fame to Appleton because of its beauty and playing advantages but also because it is the largest club in the state in membership. This was verified by Billy Sixty, Milwaukee, noted golfer who played here recently.

Membership of the club consists of 357 on the senior and active list, 32 juniors and 4 associates or nonresident members. This makes a total of 394 now enrolled, with the prospect of adding more. The official directory of golf clubs of the world shows no club in Wisconsin with that number of members. The next highest is 355 and third highest, 350. Even Milwaukee is outstripped in this respect.

STATE MAGAZINE TELLS OF CHERRY-ST BRIDGE

Cherry-st. bridge as a contribution to highway improvement in Wisconsin is described in an article appearing in the September issue of Badger Highways magazine, copies of which will be distributed here free of charge.

This publication is the official monthly organ of the Wisconsin highway commission at Madison and is just off the press. The commission is sending 700 copies to the chamber of commerce office so that all Appleton persons desiring to possess a souvenir booklet about the bridge may be supplied with one. They may be obtained free by calling at the office of the chamber of commerce.

The article describes the movement

FROSH ORDERED TO WEAR GREEN UNTIL WINTER

In old Ireland folks probably like to wear as much green coloring in their clothing as possible, but here at Lawrence members of the freshman class donned the green Thursday whether they liked it or not. Proclamations in great numbers pasted on the sidewalks and other places in the region of the college campus Wednesday night by members of the sophomore class advise the yearlings in no uncertain terms that they must blossom out in his proverbial green attire Thursday or dire consequences will follow. The freshman boys wear green caps while the girls have green arm bands on which is a white L. The caps are to be worn until Thanksgiving, and woe to the luckless frosh who spurns the order.

WATER PROJECTS ALMOST FINISHED

Less Than Two Miles of Watermain Installed This Year,
Morris Reports

With the laying of about 120 feet of water main on E. Third-st. between S. Pierce-ave and S. Locust-st now under way, the last street authorized by the common council thus far to be laid to watermain is about to be completed.

When this street is ready for travel once more, the city will have laid about one and three-quarters miles of watermain this summer, according to Fred Morris, secretary of the water commission. This is a much smaller footage than has been laid at any time during the past four or five years, when from four to five miles of watermain were laid each summer.

No more watermain were laid this past summer because the majority of the principle streets in the city already have water. A more careful policy of laying mains to eliminate "dead ends" also will be followed in the future. Wherever possible, mains laid hereafter will run from one street through to the next to connect up with other mains.

The petition of residents on several more streets for water will be heard by the council at its next two meetings, and it is possible that a few hundred more feet will be laid this fall. All projects authorized by the council hereafter will be paid for by the property owners affected.

Because the council decided to enforce the ordinance at a regular property owners pay for water mains, the first remonstrance to a petition for water was made at the last meeting of the council by a number of residents along W. Spring-st between N. Summit and N. Gillett-sts. The remonstrance and the petition were presented at the same time.

The cost to residents for laying of water mains amounts to approximately $37 for a 60 foot frontage. Since the action of the council no more water mains have been authorized.

PAPER INDUSTRY IN GOOD SHAPE AS SUMMER ENDS

Manufacturers Look Forward to Steadily Increasing Business Toward Close of Year

The summer is passing out with a better showing in the paper industry of the Fox River valley than was noticeable last year which was election year. Paper manufacturers here are generally optimistic for the fall and winter season.

This bright outlook is based upon no special condition now existing, but upon the general prosperity of the country and the usual impetus of fall purchasing. Nothing in the present situation suggests any spectacular demand for paper products, or anything resembling a big stocking up movement on the part of the jobbers, but the industry is nevertheless to be approaching a more healthy condition. Manufacturers look for an improvement in the last months of the year over the same period of the preceding year.

STEADY DEMAND
The usual summer slump in the newspaper paper line was not quite so noticeable this summer as in some years, due to the fact that a large number of newspapers, especially those in the larger cities, have been plugging away at advertisers. Circulation is reported to have been inflated to some extent and kept up by means of energetic circulation campaigns. Notwithstanding, a revival in advertising already being felt will have a stimulating effect upon the paper industry.

Orders for catalog paper are gradually gathering momentum at this time of the year owing to the approaching holiday period and its accompanying spirit in advertising. Magazines carrying a great deal of advertising are also beginning to show greater volume, thus encouraging the supply in that field.

Manufacturers of fine paper are looking forward with expectancy for the fall and winter following a sluggish summer. The market dragged along somewhat, and this attributed in part to a falling off in direct mail advertising. The increase in postal rates had a tendency to curb this form of advertising. A question that is now interesting the manufacturers is just how long the effect of this increase will be felt. Bonds and ledgers will continue to pick up, however, for the last three months of the year, and three of the first four months of the year are always the best for the trade. The trend already is to more activity.

DEMAND FALLS OFF
A falling off in the school supply paper trade is observed following the opening of schools and colleges. Manufacturers turning out this type of paper had passed through the peak shortly before Sept. 1, and only small orders are being filled at this time.

Paper specialties had a rather prosperous summer, and crepe and tissue paper will continue to be in demand up to the holiday period.

A super-cautiousness on the part of the average buyer shows no indication to change materially. On the contrary, it seems to be becoming more firmly imbedded. Jobbers probably are not likely to start stocking up heavily unless they foresee a big increase in paper, which does not seem probable at this time, according to local manufacturers.

Prices of fine paper, made from rags are not very flexible, and increases in raw material are as a rule borne as losses by the manufacturers. News print paper is a little lower than it was a year ago at this time, while sulphite is beginning to take an upward climb.

Just how the present anthracite strike will influence the price of paper is problematical. Some manufacturers believe it will have no effect at all. Most of the paper mills throughout the country use bituminous coal anyway, and if increased demand resulting from idleness in hard coal mines will tend to burden the supply, paper manufacturers consider themselves protected by coal contracts.

MICHIGAN A. A. L. HEARS ADDRESS BY ZIEGLER

G. D. Ziegler, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans, has returned from Detroit, Mich., where he delivered an address at the annual banquet of the Michigan federation of the association. He spoke to a large assemblage there.

Mr. Ziegler pointed out some of the special features of fraternal state laws and state federations as applied to the A. A. L. He also explained the association's new policy features, total permanent disability and double indemnity payments and child insurance. The organization keeps up-to-date, he said, but always under the motto, "safety first."

In a discussion of the movement to compensate local secretaries from the national office instead of locally, Mr. Ziegler advised that the present plan be continued with payment by the branches, as this is one means of keeping up the interest.

Albert Voecks, managing secretary, was nominated by the Michigan federation as its choice for trustee for four years to succeed himself at the general election in December. A. O. Bentz, William F. Klein and E. C. Toennebohm, incumbent directors, were nominated also. Frank E. Block, Saginaw, Mich., was reelected Michigan president.

WANT ARTERIAL STREET TO PROTECT CHILDREN

Several residents of the First and Second wards are starting a movement to have N. Drew-st. made an arterial highway to insure greater safety for children going to and from Roosevelt junior high school over this street. It is said that the greatest number of children coming from the south sides of the First and Second wards use N. Drew-st. in going to school, and that if this street is made an arterial highway there would be little danger of auto accidents to the children because of cars crossing N. Drew-st. at a considerable speed. The matter of making the street an arterial highway probably will be brought up at the next council meeting, according to Alderman Charles Fosse, chairman of the streets and bridge committee.

APPLETON FIRM FILES LOW BID ON BIG SCHOOL

Hegner Construction Co. of this city submitted low bid of $351,940 for the new high school building which will be erected at Marquette, Mich. Appleton Construction Co., also of Appleton, was third low bidder with $378,588. Five firms presented bids for the contract.

Other bidders were:
Pfeiffer Construction Co. of Duluth, $359,800; Madison and Peterson of Minneapolis, $392,800; Dyke Construction Co. of Holland, Mich., $409,996.

Tells Motorcop He Thought He Was Out of City When Nabbed for Speeding

Although Lothar Kemp, 18, resides on route 1, Menasha, and gets around the country quite a bit in his car, he is unfamiliar with the city of Appleton and its "dorgone crooked streets and alleys." Furthermore, he doesn't think much of the city, either.

So he informed Motorcop Officer Carl Radtke when the latter overtook him on N. Richmond-st. last Tuesday hurrying home at a 30 mile per hour clip.

"I thought I was out of the city limits," he said to Officer Radtke as the two drew up to the curb. "The officer soon convinced the 'stranger,' however, that the latter was still in the limits and requested him to appear in municipal court Thursday morning to answer charges of speeding. Judge Theodore Berg fined the offender the customary $10 and costs when Kemp pleaded guilty to the charges.

It is said he purchased a map of the city before he returned home again.

Donald Schlafke, 820 E. South-st., paid a similar fine in municipal court Thursday morning when he admitted speeding 25 miles an hour on N. Rankin-st. Wednesday.

NEW-BOY SCOUT DORY IS HERE FROM FACTORY

A ship arrived in Appleton Thursday that gladdened quite a few hearts, not because it was lost, but because a lot of youngsters here and in other cities felt lost without it. The boat did not steam up to the dock as most of them do, but it rolled in without ceremony aboard a railroad car.

This celebrated craft is the dory, not yet named, which will be used in sea scout training by Valley council, Boy Scouts of America. It was purchased several weeks ago from a boat factory at Saginaw, Mich.

Experience in handling a boat will be given to boy scouts who are interested. The craft is sturdily built and of good draught so it will resist almost any kind of sea and carries about a dozen passengers. It is propelled by several oarsmen and steered by a coxswain. The craft also can be operated with a cat rigging but sailing is not to be taught until the scouts are proficient with the oars and general handling of the new ship.

S. ONEIDAST IS TO BE WIDENED AS AID TO TRAFFIC

Council Awards Contract for Extending Pavement in Two Places on Street

Work of widening S. Oneidast hill, between W. Prospect-ave and the canal on the north side of the Fox River Paper Co., and S. Oneidast in the "flats" from the St. Paul railroad tracks to the drawbridge will be started before the close of the week.

The contract for the project was awarded Simpson and Parker Co. of this city by the common council at a special meeting Thursday afternoon on a bid of $2.90 per yard for the concrete and 25 cents a running foot for the curbing. This will amount to approximately $1 per running foot for the entire job. No other bids were submitted. The complete project will involve approximately $1,000.

The southeast corner of W. Prospect-ave and S. Oneidast will be cut back about 12 feet, and S. Oneidast from this point to the canal will be widened on the west side. The space between the new curbing and the old surface of the streets will be paved with concrete.

SAFETY FOR TRAFFIC

Widening of the street will not necessitate closing of the street to traffic. With the completion of the work, S. Oneidast will be considerably safer for traffic. In the present state, automobiles going down the hill cannot pass street cars at certain points on the right side of the street. This condition will be entirely remedied when the contractors finish their job.

Widening of the southwest corner between W. Prospect-ave and S. Oneidast will also alleviate the difficulty experienced by motorists in making the turn there. To make the turn now from W. Prospect-ave to S. Oneidast it is necessary to cross the street car tracks. This situation will be remedied.

A permit for burying an oil tank under the pavement in the alley in the rear of their store was granted Gloudehans-Gage Co. by the council. The tank will have a capacity of 1,400 gallons.

Recommendations for straightening the jog between the end of W. North-st and the beginning of W. Packard-st on N. Division-st were made to the council by the mayor. The matter was referred to the board of public works. The mayor pointed out the danger of accidents between traffic going east and west and north and south because of the jog and showed how straightening this defect somewhat would aid traffic considerably.

At last a rival has been found for Ezra Meeker, long hailed as typifying the pioneer spirit of the west. E. A. Estes of Kent, Wash., arrived in Seattle, Wash., via ex-car, two years before Meeker. Estes recently celebrated his "diamond jubilee" in the Northwest. He came west in 1856.

YOUNG'S GARROT

Here is the crude garrot, made from a copper radio aerial, with which Dr. Thomas Young, Los Angeles dentist charged with murdering his wife, choked himself to death in the Los Angeles county jail. Cecil Adams, jail clerk, is examining it.

SAGER WILL ATTEND BANKERS' CONVENTION

Edward E. Sager, secretary of the First Trust Co. will leave Friday evening for Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the annual convention of the American Bankers association to be held in that city Sept. 23 to Oct. 1. He expects to be away from Appleton about ten days. He is especially interested in the trust department features which will occupy a prominent part on the convention program. Among important problems which will be discussed at the convention are the renewal of the charter of the Federal Reserve system, important banking legislation which will be taken up at the next session of congress, and the reformation of the country's taxing system which President Coolidge and the administration leaders have proposed.

OVERHEATED PIPE CAUSES $500 FIRE IN HOME

Damage estimated at about $500 was caused by fire at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Lehrer, 877 W. Packard-st., at 7:15 Friday morning.

The fire is thought to have started from an overheated stove pipe which ignited the wall. The flames spread up the wall to the roof and precipitatedly destroyed the roof. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lehrer discovered the blaze and an alarm was immediately turned into the fire department. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Minnesota supplies about 60 per cent of all the iron ore produced in the United States.

From Girlhood To Motherhood

Through all these periods of their existence thousands of women toil on, often suffering with backache, pains in side, headaches and nervousness, all telltale symptoms of some local derangement. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one great remedy that will overcome such ailments. All over America women are telling other women how this wonderful medicine has restored them to health and the joy of living. This accounts for the tremendous demand for this popular medicine for women.

Notice of Special Election

STATE OF WISCONSIN
County of Outagamie
Office of County Clerk, Sept. 21, 1925

TO THE ELECTORS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given that a special election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages, and election precincts in the County of Outagamie, on the 29th day of September, 1925 at which the officer named below is to be chosen. The names of the candidates for the office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column.

Information to Voters

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

(a) A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

(b) If a voter wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party he shall make a cross (X) or other mark under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked and having no other mark will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a name shall be written in or a cross mark be placed in the square at the right of the name or names of the candidates in another column. If the voter does not wish to vote for all the candidates nominated by one party, he shall mark his ballot by making a cross or mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of the candidates.

(c) A voter may vote for an entire group of candidates for presidential electors by making a cross (X) or mark in the circle (O) under the party designation at the head of party column, or he may vote for the candidate for presidential electors by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the name of each candidate for elector for whom he wishes to vote. If a voter does not wish to vote for any one or more candidates for presidential electors in the group, he may erase the name of such candidate or candidates and may write in the space provided for therefor, the names of the person or persons for whom he desires to vote, and the cross (X) or mark in the (O) at the head of the party column shall count as a vote for each of the candidates in such column. If a voter does not wish to vote for any candidates for president or vice-president or for any presidential electors, whose names appear upon the ballot, he may insert or write in the names of the candidates for president and vice-president, and presidential electors to a number equal to the number of electors to be elected, in the appropriate spaces in the blank column at the right of the ballot.

(d) A voter may vote upon a question submitted to a vote of the people by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the answer which he intends to give.

(e) The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead but not more than three in all shall be issued to any voter. Five minutes time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

(f) After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

(g) A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the country. The presiding officer may administer an oath in this discretion as to such person's disability.

(h) The following is a facsimile of the official ballot:

TRIO JOURNEYS OVER OCEAN IN 45-FOOT YAWL

Norwegian Sailors Insist 73-day Trip Was Nothing of Hazard or Danger

New York—(AP)—The Vikings are not dead.

The wild sea rovers who gave back yell for yell to the teeth of the howling gale still have their place; their descendants are still ready to front the gray storms of the western ocean in a cockleshell or to ride the wind-swept surge in a frail canoe.

For has not the 45-foot yawl Fadrelannet completed a 73-day passage of the Atlantic ocean, manned by three blonde Norwegians, and buffeted by a three-week's storm?

Captain Andreas Grimsoe, a sturdy, blue-eyed Norseman led the party. The other two were Nils Wickstram and Alfred Gressend. They set sail from Bergen, Norway, just a little over two months ago, their interest aroused by reports of the Norse-American festival in Minnesota.

The Fadrelannet is short and squat and strong. Her timbers are massive, her spars thick, her lines bluff. She is not a thing of beauty, from a yachtsman's point of view, though a sailor can see at a glance that she is staunch and seaworthy.

Her crew is unable to see that the crossing of the Atlantic in this tiny craft is anything in particular to talk about.

Yes, they tell you, there was a storm. It lasted about three weeks. Yes, the boat tossed about a good deal. How did they ride it out? Oh, that was easy—a sea anchor was put out and the Fadrelannet snuggled down in the billows and took a nap until the worst was over.

Canned goods made up their food on the trip. Sure, the sailors say, this diet got a bit monotonous; but they caught fresh fish every so often for variation.

Yes, they admit, they did get a little short of water once or twice. But then it was always blowing up a rain, and a spare sail spread on a couple of spars quickly filled their tanks again.

Just to show that the Atlantic held no terrors, Captain Grimsoe charted a northern course, instead of swinging to the south for gentler weather. The Fadrelannet went almost due west from Bergen, passing well to the north of the British Isles and touching at Iceland. Then it continued along the northern route until it reached the east coast of Greenland, when it swung south, crossed the treacherous lane between Greenland and the continent, and came to the shore of Labrador near Battle Harbor.

The rest was easy. Just a matter of following the coast line, down past Newfoundland, Cape Cod, Nantucket and Block Island to New York harbor.

WOLF'S

BRYAN BUST FOR DAYTON

To the Rhea Central High School at Dayton, Tenn., the town where William Jennings Bryan made his last fight for his principles, this bust of the late orator has been presented by the sculptress, Miss Anna Pfrieminger of Cleveland. Bryan posed for it in Cleveland on June 13.

The Purple Sage, at the New Bijou Theatre today and Saturday.

Jim Lassiter, the "two-gun man," one of the most vivid and impressive figures of fiction, has been doubly immortalized. The Zane Grey hero, who rides so magnificently through the pages of "Riders of the Purple Sage," has lost nothing of his virility in the film play of that name in which Tom Mix portrays the principal role.

This announcement is one of more than ordinary interest, as the Grey novels of past years have enlisted a vast reading public and are growing in popularity daily.

In this latest picture, Mix outdoes himself in the originality and ingenuity of his feats of horsemanship. Tony, of course, does his share of the work. Mix is supported by a cast including Mabel Ballin, Marian Nixon, Wilfred Lucas, Warner Oland, Beatrice Burnham and Harold Goodwin.

Jewel attraction, which is to be shown at the Elite Theatre Saturday and Sunday, he found one of the hardest problems confronting any director.

The problem was presented by the great many characters brought into the story by its author, Samuel Hopkins Adams; how to keep these characters distinct, to avoid confusing them in the minds of the audience, and of establishing each one's relation to the story, were some of the things which worried the director.

That the difficulty was overcome by the resourcefulness and ingenuity of the brilliant Danish director is attested by the fact that "Siege" has been declared to be one of Universal's best pictures of the season.

Gade was confronted with the problem of presenting an entire New England family in his story, with a large collection of aunts, uncles, brothers, cousins, nephews and in-laws. Each character had an important bearing on the story.

Virginia Valli and Eugene O'Brien play starring roles in the production, with Mary Alden in an unusually strong character part. The supporting cast includes Marc MacDermott, Helen Dunbar, Beatrice Burnham, Harry Lorraine, and many others.

So many merchants were pleased with the big success of the fall style opening held last Saturday that it is possible that some other stunt will be put under way at this meeting. All the merchants cooperated to make the last affair a success and the treasurer reports a balance in the bank and this may be used as a nest egg to start the next affair on its way. At least 100 merchants are expected at the meeting Monday evening.

14 MORE ENROLL
IN GOLF CLUB

Players from Michigan, Ohio,
Illinois and Other Places
Use New Course Here

Applications of 14 seeking membership in Butte des Morts Golf club have been approved by the board of directors of Winnegama Land Co. the corporation owning the course, and these men now are enrolled in the organization. This makes 41 added by the club since Jan. 1 and brings the total to 263 senior members.

All of these 14 were allowed to enroll by buying a share in the land company at $200. No more will be received at this rate, however, as the next ten who enter the club will be asked to pay $250 a share. When the ten have been enrolled the board will decide what the future amount is to be.

It is the plan of Winnegama Land Co. to begin retiring the preferred stock of the corporation in the near future as the result of the income which has been received this summer. Widespread publicity has come to the Butte des Morts course because of the presence here Sunday of Walter Hagen, British champion, and Billy Stry, Milwaukee's former state amateur champion. The result is that players have come from long distances to play golf at the course.

Thirty visitors were registered Thursday from 16 cities outside of Appleton. These were from Ludington, Kalamazoo, Niles and Plainville, Mich., Cincinnati, Carrollton and Dayton, Ohio, Minneapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Racine, Neenah and Menasha.

FIFTY-THREE BOYS
HEAR GAMEL'S TALK

Fifty three boys of high school age heard Frank H. Gamel, noted boyology expert, give an informal talk Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. as guests of the H. Y. club in cooperation with the John F. Rose chapter, Order of DeMolay. Every boy of high school age in the city was invited to attend.

Mr. Gamel's talk was a challenge to the present generation. He stressed that these living today can influence the lives of every other being and in this way can effect the whole community.

NEW OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Edward "Ed" Steenis, tackle on Appleton high school football teams in 1923 1924 and captain and fullback this year was elected president of the high school "A" club at the initial meeting of the group in the office of Coach John McLaughlin Friday morning. Robert "Bob" Ashman, captain and center of the 1925 basketball team, was chosen secretary and treasurer. The club is composed of men who have won letters in any branch of athletics at the school.

Bylaws for the year were prepared and plans were made to meet every second Friday afternoon after the close of school. The club will promote several all school projects this year.

CAR DIVES INTO RIVER; ONE HURT

Occupants of Machine Crawl
Out When Car Takes Nose
Dive into Water

A large coach owned and driven by Michael Dunne of Park Falls, crashed through the railing board at the coffer dam at Weyauwega about 1 o'clock Friday morning and dove into the water. Other occupants of the car were Miss Lucille Anderson of Manitwa, Mrs. Gustaf Abel of Waupaca and Edward Swanson, of Stevens Point, all of whom crawled through a window and on to the bridge.

Mrs. Abel was the only person injured. Her neck was cut by the glass from broken windows and her instep was injured. The quartet continued on its way to Waupaca, after a doctor had attended to Mrs. Abel.

Walter Pagel, of Weyauwega, who had heard about the accident went to the scene in his small truck to look around. He left the truck engine running and the car started to move across the bridge and leaped into the river. Both cars have been removed.

Recipes For School Lunch Dishes

Most housekeepers have collections of recipes of all kinds, but probably few have attempted to compile lists of dishes suitable for school lunches.

Such recipes are contained in the booklet "School Lunches" which this Bureau is offering for free distribution. Send for your copy today so that you will have it for reference the entire school year. Fill out the coupon below and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage.

ONE KILLED, THREE HURT AS CAR GOES IN DITCH

LITTLE CHUTE MAN IS DEAD OF HIS INJURIES

Two Girls Suffer Fractured Skulls in Accident as They Return from Dance

One person is dead, two are lying in a serious condition at St. Elizabeth hospital with fractured skulls and a fourth is confined to his home with minor cuts and bruises as the result of an accident on highway 47 about three miles south of Mackville at 12:35 o'clock Friday morning.

The dead: Anton Van Bostel, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry van Bostel of Little Chute.

The injured: Miss Julia Groth, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Groth, route 4, Appleton; Miss Dorothy Roehl, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roehl of Hortonville; Martin Ver Kuilen, 21 of Kaukauna.

Ver Kuilen's injuries are slight and it was not necessary to take him to the hospital. Both of the girls suffered fractured skulls.

Van Bostel, who also suffered a fractured skull, died at St. Elizabeth hospital at 6 o'clock Friday morning.

The party was returning from a dance north of Mackville in a Ford touring car. All were riding in the front seat. Suddenly something went wrong with the steering apparatus about three miles this side of Mackville, and the car headed for the ditch and tipped over. Van Kuilen, the

EAGLES HEAR PLANS TO HELP BLIND OF VALLEY

Miss Alice Otto, secretary of the Fox River Valley Blind association addressed members of Fraternal Order of Eagles at their meeting Wednesday night in Eagle hall. Miss Otto told the Eagles how the blind hoped to raise money by charitable activities, tag days and benefit dances, so that a broom factory to help afflicted persons to help themselves could be built. A tract of land in Oshkosh has been donated by a resident of that city.

The campaign to raise money to build the factory will begin with a dance Saturday night at Eagle hall. Miss Otto thanked the Eagle lodge for their donation of the use of their hall for the evening. Letters are to be sent out to all Eagle aeries by Col. J. B. Schneller, state president, urging them to help the blind persons in their campaign.

The injured: Miss Julia Groth, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Groth, route 4, Appleton; Miss Dorothy Roehl, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roehl of Hortonville; Martin Ver Kuilen, 21 of Kaukauna.

PRISON KILLER AT SING SING TO QUIT JOB

New York—(A)—John Hulbert, Sing executioner, who is said never to have given an interview, Wednesday let one fact become known. It was that Hulbert, who has turned on the electric current that has killed 140 prisoners, will retire when this year's work is done.

Rivaling concert stars, Hulbert has earned as high as $450 for an evening's work. He received that sum for executing Morris and Joseph Diamond and John Farina, a few months ago. But there are slack years. In 1919, Hulbert officiated in the death house only twice. Then he received only $50 for each execution. The per capita fee has climbed from $50, when he began in 1914, to $150. Hulbert's bill in 1922 was $2,550. That was added to his salary of $1,600 as electrician at Auburn prison.

Once Hulbert fainted at the executioner's switch. They propped him up and switched on the current. Once a former helper at Auburn prison came and sat down in his chair, as calmly as a man coming for a shave, and said:

"John, I'm going over the top. It's a pleasure to die. Do a good job, John." And John did.

Who will succeed Hulbert? Maybe Guy La Rock, who two years ago wrote to the state prison commission from Watertown:

"What are the chances for me get-

Middle West Receptive To New School Of Elocution

That the middle West, and Wisconsin especially, is more receptive than any other section of the country to the new school of public speaking as opposed to the old methods of elocution is the opinion of Florence Lutz of Boston, new member in the college department of public speaking. Miss Lutz has had close contact with many sections of the country in her work having studied in Boston, taught in New York and California, and recently circled the country on a lecture tour.

Miss Lutz is experienced in classroom and platform work. A classmate of Prof. F. W. Orr in the Curry School of Expression in Boston, after graduation she became a member of the famous Sargent School of Acting in New York. It was there that her close touch with the dramatic field was secured, many of the leaders among the younger actors today having come under her supervision.

Many of her students have subsequently starred on the silent stage, the movies.

Her study of western attitudes toward expression work was made possible by the position of assistant professor of voice in the University of California at Berkeley for four years. She was called from the west to the office of dean of the Curry school in Boston after the death of Prof. Curry. A complete circle of the country on a lecture tour recently has added to her observations as to the various attitudes of sections to expression work.

"Boston will continue to be a Mecca for students," she declares, "but it is not alive to new ideas and methods. The middle west is, and is therefore the best field for the work in which Prof. Curry was a pioneer."

Miss Lutz's instruction at the college will be mainly in dramatics. Prof. A. L. Frazer has been promoted to the head of the department formerly held by Prof. Orr. Prof. Franke will be occupied with debating and platform teaching and coaching, assisted by Winifred Bird of River Falls, part time instructor.

New Chic Silk Frocks

Featuring All That's Smart In The New Autumn Modes

Don't you have a little thrill when you think of buying that new Silk Dress? Well, you'll get a great big thrill when you see our fascinating selection from which you may choose your very own new Frock! Your Apparel education is not complete until you have seen our wondrous array of Fall Dresses!

The silks are sinuous, clinging, soft—the delightful satin family is again in vogue! Colors are deep and rich—the real colors of Autumn. Black is considered, this Fall, the last word in style.

Flourishing Flares And Satin Fabrics Furnish Novelty

The flare is everywhere! It gives delightful life to the current styles. Who could be downhearted when wearing one of these gay frocks—with flares rippling out here and there? Sleeves, as a rule, are long and interesting, with frequent puffs at the wrist.

Skirts are short! But there is not determined length. The young and flippant miss will wear her's almost to the knee, while her more staid sister will wear her's several inches longer.

Our styles are individual!

Our First-of-the Season Prices Are Low! Buy Here! Now!

There's one tremendous advantage in buying here at the beginning of the season; our prices now are the same low prices which prevail throughout the year. We don't have to boost our prices now, as we don't hold sales later! In fact, that's why we don't hold sales—so that we may give you fair prices every day of the year.

START BUILDING 3 STEEL SCOWS FOR GOVERNMENT

Menasha Firm Expects to Keep Crew Busy All Winter
on U. S. Contract

Menasha—William J. Hess, owner of Menasha Boiler Works, who has been awarded a contract for building three steel scows or lighters for the government, has commenced construction work. Most of the steel has arrived and is being fabricated. The contract will keep a crew of 40 busy the entire winter.

A large elevated platform constructed of heavy timbers and of sufficient size to accommodate the three scows has been constructed on the bank of the government canal directly opposite the boiler works from which the scows will be launched when completed. The scows are to be 80 by 26 feet in size and will have a depth of six feet.

The Menasha Boiler Works will devote most of its time in the future to this work, according to Mr. Hess, who is familiar with ship building. He sold his plant at Manitowish 17 years ago to the Manitowish Ship Building Corporation which is now one of the biggest concerns of its kind on the Great Lakes.

Mr. Hess also has built many of the digesters used by papermills in the Fox river valley and in other parts of the country. He learned his trade as an apprentice in Milwaukee 53 years ago. After selling his plant at Manitowish he located at Green Bay and from there came to Menasha six years ago.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Increasing cloudiness; probably showers tonight or Saturday in south portion; somewhat warmer in north and central portions tonight.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

A high pressure spreading over the Lake region and surrounding territory during the next 24 hours has caused a drop in temperature in the north portion resulting in heavy to killing frost in upper Michigan and extreme northern Wisconsin. Lower pressure is spreading eastward over the far northwest, now overlying Saskatchewan, its influence being felt southward into the Dakotas. This will cause increasing cloudiness in this section, with rising temperature and winds shifting to southerly and increasing as the "low" moves eastward.

Folks Will Have To Budget Their Time To Hear Half Of Programs Offered This Year

It looks like a busy winter. That is the impression gained by a number of Appleton residents from advance announcements of special attractions recently. Aside from the usual social and club activities, the season will provide ample entertainment for the amusement seeking people.

The season will, in fact, be so crowded that conflicting engagements are bound to result. For that reason it will be quite important for Mr. and Mrs. Appleton to prepare their calendar. It is quite probable that a calendar will not be sufficient, and that many residents will also have to make a "date budget" and decide just how many nights a week they are to "go out" and also make their choice between conflicting dates.

VARIED PROGRAM

The coming fall and winter offers a varied program of concerts, recitals, lectures, plays and entertainments besides sports activities. Several organizations are promoting a whole series of entertainment numbers, while others are presenting only individual numbers. Of the "series" there are some 24 artists and lecture numbers.

Among the events to attract the eyes of high class music is the usual course of the Community Artist series promoted yearly by Lawrence Conservatory of Music. This series has six numbers.

The Community Artist series include: Queena Mario, coloratura soprano, Oct. 13; Kathryn Meale, contralto, Oct. 23; United States Marine band, Nov. 2; Arthur Shattuck, Jan. 1; DeReszke Sincere male quartet and Mildred Dilling, harpist, Jan. 21; Jacques Thibaud, French violinist, sides the extra-series number of Paul Whiteman and his concert orchestra, Mar. 17.

NINE CONCERT SERIES

A concert series will also be given under the auspices of the woman's auxiliary of the American Legion with the following: violin, soprano, Sept. 23; Phil Conner, soprano, and Clayton East, baritone, Oct. 30; Erna Blame, soprano, dramatic interpreter, Dec. 1; Richard Czerwinski, violinist, and Matt Webber, tenor, Feb. 16; Bran-DeCoul, musical travelog, Mar. 8.

Appleton's woman's club has announced a concert and lecture program of five numbers, which will include: Edwin M. Whitney, dramatic interpreter, Dec. 1; Ruth Bryan Owen, vocal lecturer, Dec. 4; T. Dunsmore, community playground lecturer, Jan. 5; Charles Crawford Gors, and imitator, Feb. 17.

A forum program of eight numbers arranged by the chamber of commerce, the luncheon clubs, Y. M. C. A. and the local teachers association will be carried out. The September number is an address by Dr. Frank H. Gamel, biologist; the October number a lecture by Ada Ward, English educator, the November number a big farm festival with probably Henry Jardine as the speaker; the December number an address by Dr. Frank, new president of the university of Wisconsin; the January number a speaker to talk on the municipal form of government; the February number a lecture by Dr. Henry Morritt Wriston, new president of Lawrence college, the March number talk by E. G. Doudna, secretary of Wisconsin Educational association, and the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce in April.

WINTER BAND CONCERTS

In Lawrence Memorial chapel the 10th Field Artillery band of Appleton will give its winter series of band concerts to occur about once every two weeks and probably oftener.

In addition to the "series" numbers there will likely be special concert programs by the American Legion symphony orchestra, the Appleton high school orchestra and glee club, Lawrence college glee club, Lawrence Conservatory recitals, the community

Some members of the cast for the Elk musical comedy, "The Jollies of 1925" were selected Wednesday evening at a meeting of committee chosen to stage the show on Oct. 26 and 27. The cast is selected by the talent committee.

DEDICATE SCHOOLS

Special features of the season, not in the entertainment class, are dedication of three Junior high schools, the dedication of the new First Methodist church, the tenth anniversary celebration of the Y. M. C. A., the diamond jubilee of the Congregational church and the public reception for Dr. Wriston, president of Lawrence college.

COLLISION CAUSES DAMAGE TO TWO CARS

Damage to two cars, caused by a collision on E. Wisconsin ave. near N. Platteau st. shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

While driving west on E. Wisconsin ave. Tim Ryan, route 3, Kaukauna, collided with Louise Schroeder, 815 E. Hancock st. who was traveling east on the same street. Neither driver was injured.

The collision knocked Schroeder's car upon the parkway, breaking the guide wire on a telephone pole. The right rear fender was bent and the right rear tire punctured.

WHY TREES ARE COOL

Berlin-Heri Zimmer, a botanist here, explains that trees make cool places, not only because they make shade and keep off the sun, but because their leaves give off moisture. He says that atmospheric trees have about five acres of leaf space, or about five acres of foliage. During hot weather the whole of this area is exhaling a cool moisture from the leaf surface.

Because it contains more Vitamins than any food you can get.

You'll be glad to know that Cod Liver Oil comes in sugar coated tablets now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh on your bones, and feel well and strong ask Schlitz Bros., Downer's Drug Store or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. Only 60 cents for 60 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist will hand you back the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days.

"Get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablets."

UNIFORMITY REQUIRED AMONG VALLEY SCOUTS

Uniformity in management of boy scout troops will be sought in the work of the fall and winter by Paul O. Kelcher, executive of Valley council, Boy Scouts of America. He has sent a bulletin to all scoutmasters outlining his plans in this respect.

Especially, care is to be used in selecting the leaders for the patrols of each troop. Mr. Kelcher says. Those entrusted with this task are to be chosen for qualities of leadership, enthusiasm for the scout program and ability to conduct a patrol with efficiency.

Uniformity also will include a point system of grading the troops for the work they are doing. Points are to be given individual scouts in each patrol for attendance at meetings, uniform, neatness, attendance at church, completion of tests and payment of dues.

All scoutmasters also are notified to select names for their troops. Each is numbered, he says, but this is only for the convenience of the central office. Each patrol is to have a name, yell, call and possibly a song.

The gang idea also is to be built up in each patrol.

MITCHELL, PERSHING MAY VISIT APPLETON

General William Mitchell, stormy petrel of the United States army, now on his way east to testify before President Coolidge's investigating board, may come to Appleton during the fall or winter to deliver an address under auspices of the American Legion. General Mitchell promised prominent legionnaires that if he came into Wisconsin this year he would come to Appleton and it is understood a definite invitation to speak here will be extended to him.

General John J. Pershing also has consented to visit in Wisconsin in the near future and an effort will be made to bring him to Appleton to speak.

Mrs. John Heug, Miss Rose Haub, and Mrs. August Arndt spent Wednesday at Oshkosh where they attended the Winnebago-co fair.

The gang idea also is to be built up in each patrol.

SEEK LANGUAGE ORIGIN

Copenhagen-Umanatsiak, a small place in Greenland, is believed to be the only place on the island where Eskimos have preserved their ancient culture. It was her that students of languages recently persuaded Eskimo singers to sing for phonograph records. Keeps Your Engine Running "Sweet"

Experience with Red Crown is its best salesman. Here is an experience typical of hundreds which are voluntarily sent to this office in praise of Red Crown—A Premium Gasoline.

"I took an auto trip of seven hundred miles last month. Just before starting I had the car—a Buick six—overhauled and put in first-class shape. The engine ran just like it was from the factory. Red Crown Gasoline and Polarine lubricating oil was what I bought all the way, and as we rolled in home at the end of ten days, that engine was running "sweeter" than when we started."

Red Crown will give you more service per dollar invested than any gasoline you can buy, regardless of price. If you pay less, you get less.

It is the price per mile not the price per gallon that counts.

The FLAPPER WIFE

"I will get back!" Gloria said fiercely to herself the next morning when she awoke. She had set her alarm clock for seven.

"I will get back into Dick's life! I belong there. He can't put me out of it!"

She bathed, and dressed herself in one of the bungalow aprons that Ragnhild had worn for her morning work. Then she tiptoed downstairs and brought in the milk and the paper from the back porch.

She lit the gas stove and took the coffee tin from the kitchen cupboard. She stood looking at it helplessly. How did you make coffee? There were no directions on the gay wrapper around the tin, and Gloria didn't own a cook book.

Then suddenly she remembered that Dick knew how to make coffee. She would run upstairs and ask him how it was done.

She knocked on his door. "Dick, I've brought you the morning paper," she called, brightly.

In a moment Dick opened the door. "Thanks." His eyes took her in—the bungalow apron, the rolled-up sleeves, and the coffee tin in her hand.

"What do you think you're doing?" he asked. An amused smile flickered over his face.

"Making coffee for my husband!" Gloria answered pertly. "Only I don't know how to make it. Aside from that I'm getting along fine!"

"Dick's smile broadened into a grin. "I suppose you're after my recipe," he said. "I use a tablespoon of coffee for each cup, and an extra one for the pot."

Gloria's spirits lifted at his good humor. And something in her breast that had been like a lump of ice, seem to melt. . . . She was sure that he hadn't meant his harshness to her last night. He hadn't meant what he had said.

She put up her lips for him to kiss. "You aren't peevish at your Gloria, are you?" she asked. She laid her hand on his cheek, and came a step nearer.

Then, with a little sigh, she put her head down on his shoulder. It was good to be there with Dick, friends once more. Like the solution of a problem.

"We're quarreled long enough . . . you and I. Kiss me!" she said.

But as she spoke, she knew she was making a mistake. She could feel Dick draw away from her. Her hands dropped at her sides, and she went downstairs without another word.

She made the coffee, according to Dick's campfire recipe, and put it on the stove to boil.

When he came downstairs to breakfast, it was more than ready. "I'm sorry there isn't toast," Gloria said as she poured it for him. "But there wasn't so much as a crumb of bread in the house. I'll stock up today."

She tried to drink a cup of her coffee. But she had to admit to herself that it was too bitter to drink. She didn't dare to offer Dick a second cup of it.

"Will you be home tonight for dinner?" she asked as he got up from the table.

She hoped that he would at least offer to kiss her goodbye. But he didn't.

"Yes, I'll be home," he said colorlessly. "I think I'll take your car today. You don't seem to drive it any more. . . . do you mind if I do?"

Gloria shook her head. There was a lump in her throat. She watched Dick drive down the street, her vision blurred with tears. She wiped them away, angrily.

"What's the matter with me?" she asked herself. "Am I falling in love with the poor simon?"

Or had she always been in love with him? And had it taken her jealousy of Miss Briggs to unveil the fact to her?

The thought of Miss Briggs down in Dick's office with him all day was a torment to her. She stopped in the middle of her work a dozen times that morning to wish that Dick had a man secretary instead of Susan Briggs.

"He's just got to be her," she kept telling herself. "I just won't have her down in that office with me. That's all there is to it!"

she? Well, Gloria would show Dick that she, herself, could be soothing and sympathetic. It was Miss Briggs' method of "vamping" Dick, that would be Gloria's game. Two could play at any old game.

The sight of Dick's shabby old housecoat hanging in his closet was an inspiration to Gloria. She would buy him a new one. Goodness knew he needed it!

And it wouldn't be a dull gray one like this. . . . It would have some pep and dash about it.

When Dick came home that night, the table was neatly set. There was an appetizing odor of frying steel in the house. And Gloria in a clear white dress, came out of the kitchen to meet him.

"Dinner will be ready in two minutes," she greeted him cheerfully. "And when you go upstairs to wash your hands, take a peek at the surprise I have for you up there."

On the bed in Dick's room was spread Gloria's "surprise" . . . a purple silk housecoat lined with scarlet.

"Holy suffering cats!" Dick said to himself. "Does she think I'd wear a thing like that?"

He went down to dinner in his suit. Gloria's face fell when she saw him.

"Aren't you going to put on your new housecoat?" she asked.

Dick shook his head. "You know I never wear bright colors like that," Gloria, he said, "although it is a doggone nice coat. Thanks."

"What'll I do with it?" Gloria asked pathetically. She looked as if she were going to cry. "Take it! You didn't pay cash for it, did you?" Dick asked.

"No—no," Gloria faltered. "I charged it to you."

"And how much was it?" Dick's voice had grown stern.

"Not very much. . . . only $50," Gloria replied. "It really was a bargain. It had been $75. . . . awfully good silk in it."

Dick sat down at the dining room table.

"I've told you a dozen times that you're not to go downtown and run up bills without asking me about it, first!" And in spite of it, you charge a $50 housecoat to me in a store where I owe money as it is!"

Gloria felt a frown growing between her eyebrows.

"Well, what do you want me to do . . . take the thing back?" she asked. "I'm going to be terribly ashamed if I have to, let me tell you!"

"I'll take it back," Dick answered. "Just do it up in a bundle, and I'll take it with me in the car tomorrow morning. I hate to wear ungrateful, Gloria, but a $50 present that isn't paid for wouldn't give me and satisfaction, at all. I'd hate the blues every time I put it on."

Gloria shook her head. "I can't understand you at all, Dick," she said. "Suppose you do owe a few bills? Everybody does. Nobody ever has every dollar paid right up on the first of the month."

Dick was silent. He made little dots on the tablecloth with the tines of his fork.

"I . . . I suppose you'll have a fit if I mention the word 'clothes' to you," Gloria went on, after a minute. "but I haven't a single summer dress. You know you promised me I could have some, before you went away on your trip. Remember?"

"Yes," Dick answered quietly. "But don't you think it's more important for us to get some of our old bills paid off, first?"

"No," Gloria cried, eagerly. "I'm just about at the point where I could go to jail for debt, cheerfully. Like Mr. Hiccup. That is, if I could have a few clothes. . . . I'm in a rage!"

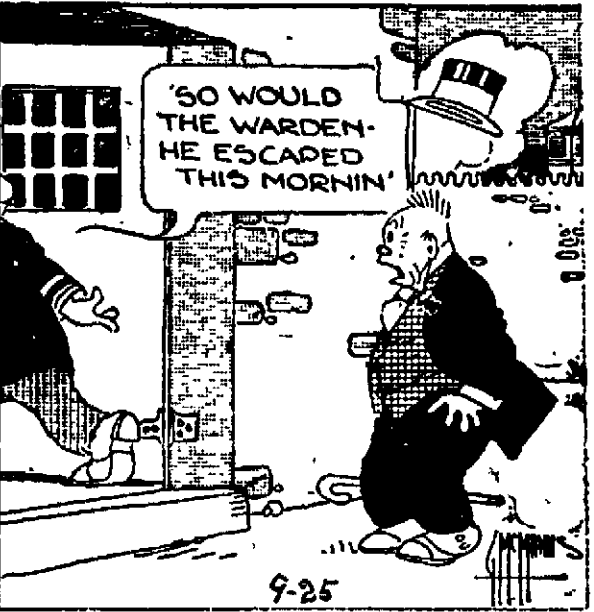

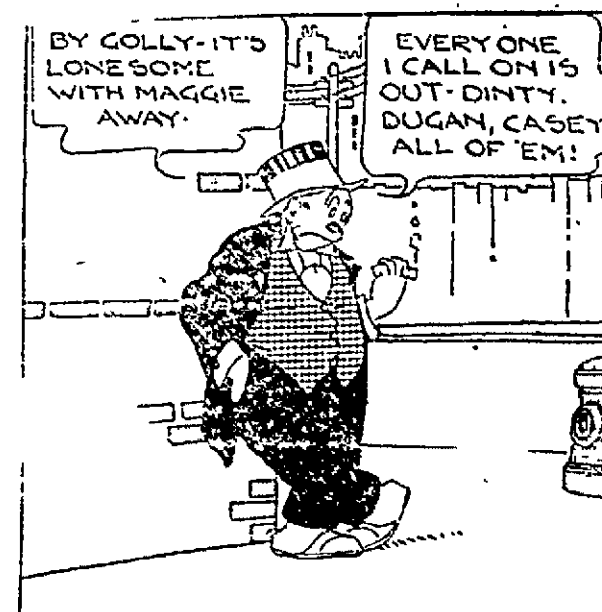

Dick's lip curled. "Pretty costly rage, I'll say," he remarked. "You bought three fine dresses just a few weeks ago. I'll let my mother never had one dress in all her life that cost that much. And Dad could buy and sell me a dozen times over."

"It's just terrible that you have to support a wife, isn't it?" Gloria asked with fine sarcasm. "I feel sorry for you!"

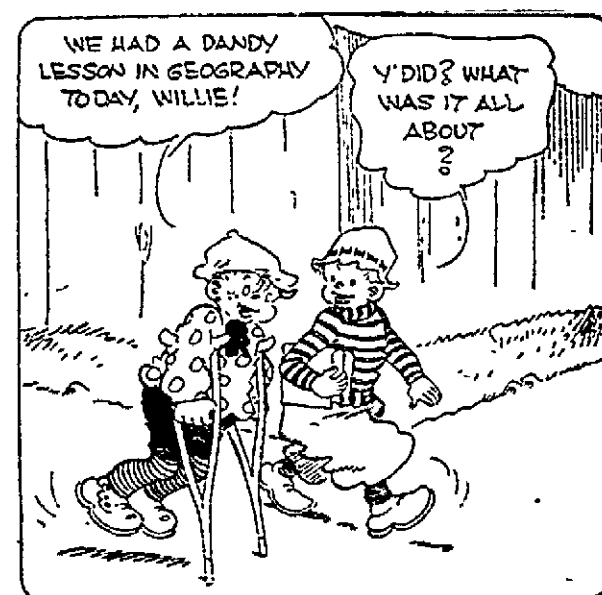

"You should!" Dick answered. "All I hope is that you'll feel so sorry for me that you won't buy and more $50 hats for a while!"

Use "Scrap" Books For Your Ideas

"Scrap" your ideas if you are planning to build or to remodel your home in the future. When the time comes to build, one has only to turn to the scrap book to obtain a number of well thought out suggestions. The Wisconsin department of home economics gives a few ideas for "scraping" your ideas.

The scrap book may be made by folding together large sheets of heavy plain paper, or by using the clippings over the pages of an ordinary magazine.

Suggestions may be found in magazines, newspapers and various booklets and bulletins sent out by the colleges or by the different advertising companies. A great many ideas may be gathered by preserving the details of others and sketching the homes which you like. Books on house and garden planning also give helpful suggestions which may be noted in the scrap book.

LOTS OF "COIN" NEEDED TO REAR MODERN GIRL

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

New York—As a matter of cold dollars and cents, has it been worth your parents' expenditure to rear you from babyhood to the time when you can get out and scratch for yourself? And how long has it taken you to justify the parental investment?

This has been made the subject of interesting computation by Dorothy Mackall, rising young screen actress, who takes herself seriously and is in turn taken seriously by picture producers.

Miss Mackall's figures are especially significant for young women whose goal is the screen.

Miss Mackall is calculating her earnings up to the age of 18. During the last year of that period she was in America, appearing first in the Shubert Winter Garden, and later with Florenz Ziegfeld. Her salary at that time she estimates at $60 per week.

From the age of 15 to 18, although earning most of her living, Dorothy's parents contributed some $400.

Thus at the age of 18 her upkeep totaled $12,975. Against this she had earned approximately $600. At the rate of 6 per cent annual interest, Dorothy should have earned in salary totals $3168 up to her nineteenth year. She actually earned $2000. So Miss Mackall considers herself a profitable investment, in the earning capacity her father's money provided.

She has been in motion pictures three and a half years. Computing her screen earnings over the period ending with completion of "The Mine With the Iron Door," Miss Mackall had earned approximately $30,000. That sum added to the $6000 places her far in the clear as having justified the expenditure in her behalf. And the sum is considerably swelled by earnings in several pictures made for First National since "The Mine."

It is not Miss Mackall's intention to publicize her earnings in pictures, but to present an interesting phase to the "living problem" as it is faced by screen candidates and their relatives.

THE TEN GREAT LOVES IN A MAN'S LIFE—NO. 4

Adventures Of The Twins

What They Saw In The Crystal Ball
Off went the Twins to the house of the Green Wizard.

Now the Green Wizard lived in the tree-tops and no one can find his house except by magic. But the magic shoes took Nancy and Nick there before a clock could strike four.

"How do you do, children," said the Green Wizard. "I am very glad to see you. How is my friend, the Fairy Queen?"

"She's pretty well, but she is worried," said Nancy. "Somebody stole her bees. She kept them in golden hive in her rose garden and somebody came in the night and stole them. Now she hasn't any rose-honey to put on her bread."

"By the great jumping alligator, that's too bad!" cried the Green Wizard. "I never heard of such nerve in all my life. And bees so hard to get, too. Something will have to be done at once."

"The Fairy Queen thought that some of her enemies had taken it," said Nick.

"Certainly it was no friend," declared the Green Wizard. "No friend would steal your very best bees and then not let on a word about it. No sirree!"

They talked and talked about the matter and about who would be most likely to have the stolen hive.

"When I think of it," said the Green Wizard finally, "last night at moon-up, I saw a lot of pixies go by carrying something on a board over their shoulders. It looked sort of bright and I am as sure as flypaper that it was the golden beehive. The more I think of it, the surer I get. Yes, sir, I'm as sure now as a bottle of glue. It's those pixies."

"Where do they live?" asked Nick. "In Pixie Cave about two miles beyond this forest. The cave is in a rocky glen hard to find and hard to get out of. They have a secret cupboard which no one has even been able to open. Even if you did find the cave you never would be able to find the beehive, or there isn't a doubt in the world that they will put it into their magic cupboard and keep it there."

"But bees cannot live in a cupboard," said Nancy. "They have to get out in the sun and be among the flowers."

"Well, who said that this was a regular cupboard?" the Green Wizard exclaimed. "It's a most irregular cupboard. It has even been said that the door to this cupboard opens into another country. So, of like the looking-glass that Alice stepped through. And if they put those bees and the golden beehive there, it's going to be some picnic finding them."

Nick said "It's going to be pretty hard, I guess."

"Yes," said the Green Wizard. "But not impossible. I have my gazing ball which is always a help in time of trouble. I'll get it and we'll have a look."

So he got his crystal gazing ball and the three of them looked into its clear depths. And what they saw was an old woman lifting a stone under water, and dropping down a key. Then she replaced the stone and went into her house.

"Ah, ha!" exclaimed the Green Wizard. "It's the Sour-Old-Woman-Who-Lives-Under-the-Waterfall. She has the key to the pixies' cupboard."

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Grape fruit, broiled bacon, bread crumb omelet, bran muffins, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Macaroni baked with tomatoes and cheese, toasted bran muffins, celery, apple snow, molasses bars, milk, tea.

Dinner—Pot roast of beef vegetables cooked with meat, cabbage with sour cream dressing, cottage cheese pie, graham bread, apple jelly, milk, coffee.

When making muffins it's well worth while to make enough to toast for a second meal. It is such a simple matter to split the cold muffins and toast and butter them and the result is so good that the mixture and baking of extra batter is not a hardship.

APPLE SNOW

Four large sour apples, 3 eggs, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup sugar.

Wash and bake apples. Scrape fruit from skin and core and rub through a fine sieve. Beat in sugar. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry on a platter, using a wire whisk. Slowly add sweetened apple pulp heating constantly. Chill and serve with boiled custard made with the yolks of the eggs.

BOILED CUSTARD

One and one-half cups hot milk, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup sugar, yolks 3 eggs, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat egg yolks with sugar and salt. Slowly beat in hot milk, being sure the sugar and egg mixture dissolves in the hot milk. Pour into top of double boiler and cook over hot water, stirring to keep smooth until mixture coats the spoon. Remove from the heat and when cool stir in vanilla. Chill before serving. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

I wonder if every girl who marries goes through the same mental experiences that have been mine. I wonder if she finds her world very different from that which she has imagined.

First, I found that love to Jack meant something entirely different than it does to me. To Jack, there are certain well-defined limits within which love must dwell and within whose limits the other things that compose his life may never come. Love, in turn, must never stray over into the realm of business or cultural interest, and not very far into the land of amusement. Truly love is of man's life a thing apart.

With me, love must be a part of everything in which I am concerned. All my life I have been taught this. All the books I have read, all the plays I have ever seen, every screen picture that has unfolded before me, told me that love must sweeten every task, must clear up every misunderstanding. It must be the solvent of every difficulty, the chemical which made all other things clear.

"Some day," I said to myself, "I shall know this love and then I shall know something so beautiful, so enthralling, that life will be one sweet dream."

I know now that I asked too much. But does not every girl ask the same when she stands at the altar and marries the man she loves?

I am still satisfied, however, that love is the only thing which sets the vibrations of life in tune. We do not understand it yet. We do not know we use it, and sometimes we bruise and hurt it until it dies.

The other day I had come to the conclusion that I was standing in love's light—that in my selfishness and self-centered attitude I was not making love the motive power of my existence. I determined to try out my theory again.

I sat down and wrote a letter to my husband. I sent it to his office in Pittsburg.

If other women could write him

Woman Is Happier As A Janitress

Hillside, N. J.—The gentleman who went on record to the effect that woman is the weaker vessel can now sit down. It isn't so.

If you think it is, just consider the case of Mr. Ollie Macintosh, housewife, church worker and the best amateur carpenter in all New Jersey. Mrs. Macintosh has just celebrated her 58th birthday. She spent a good share of the anniversary in looking over plans for the new bungalow which she by her own unaided efforts, is about to build for herself and her husband.

Building this bungalow won't be anything new for her, either. Several years ago, when she and her husband were living in Cincinnati, she built their house there. Then, when it was finished, she got out a spade and graded the lawn. Of recent months she has been making bird houses, rustic furniture and the like for the porch and lawn of her home here. She drives daily to Newark in her auto to get lumber, carries it home, works all day with the saw and hammer and then drives down to Newark again in the evening to meet her husband, who is superintendent of elevators in an office building there.

In between times she manages to keep house, make most of her own clothes and take an active part in church affairs.

She ordinarily rises at dawn, and seldom gets to bed before midnight. And she likes it. "Plenty of work is the thing," she says. "But how do you stand it?" she was asked. "It's a gift," she replied. "It must be."

Sick headaches are caused by constipation—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings relief

Constipation can wreck your health in over forty different ways.

Sick headaches, sallow skin, blotchy complexion, gray hair, spots before the eyes, unpleasant breath—these are a few of the outward effects of constipation. Over forty serious diseases can be traced to it.

Don't let this insidious disease send its poisons into your body one day longer. Thousands have found health by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, after suffering for years. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings permanent relief in the most chronic cases if eaten regularly. It is guaranteed to do so or your grocer returns the purchase price.

Kellogg's is 100 per cent effective because it is ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it—they know that it takes ALL-BRAN to bring sure results. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Try the many delicious recipes on every package.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is made in Battle Creek, Michigan, and sold by grocers everywhere. Served by leading hotels and restaurants. Order a package from your grocer today.

WOMEN SEEKING BEAUTY SHOULD SHUN TOBACCO

English Dietitian Says Smoking Spoils Complexion, Alcohol Adds Fat

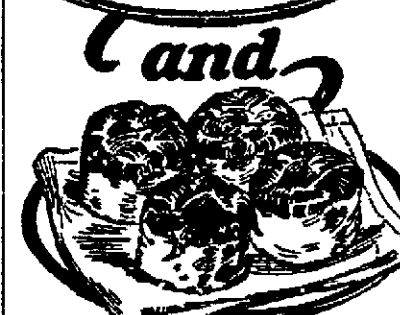

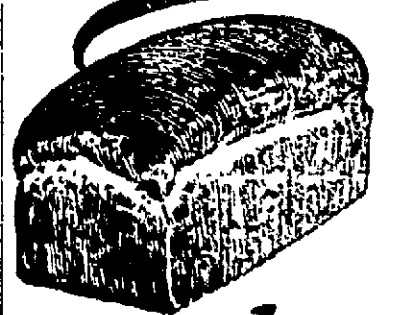

London.—(AP)—Tobacco used by women has a tendency to destroy their complexion, according to Dr. Cecil Webb Johnson, one of England's best known specialists on diet and obesity, in his book "Women and Beauty." Health and beauty go hand in hand, declares the author, and a grave warning is given to women smokers and drinkers, his theory being that it is difficult for the women of today, and the men as well, to smoke or drink within what ordinarily is termed moderation.

"A man often will have his allotted daily ration of so many pipes, cigars or cigarettes, but a woman is more unstable and less capable of self-control than a man," the author contends. As a rule, he believes, a woman smoker does not appear to know what moderation means, any more than a woman drinker.

Concerning the effect of excessive cigarette smoking upon a woman's beauty the doctor says: "Observe a girl who smokes excessively, and you will notice that she also looks undernourished, with staring eyes and a yellowish skin. To make matters worse the smoke-dried throat experiences a false thirst, and thus more liquid than is necessary is consumed and an alcohol habit set up. The cocktail and the cigarette always go together."

Alcohol generally, Dr. Webb-Johnson maintains, spoils the beauty in woman because it makes superfluous fat.

the Secret of better

Every woman can enjoy the best bread and pastry if she knows how to test her flour and then uses a flour that stands the test. Read these 5 important tests for good flour:

5 important tests

1. COLOR: Does it have the creamy white natural color?
2. TEXTURE: Does it have a smooth silky appearance?
3. FLAVOR: Does it have a rich wheaty taste?
4. ELASTICITY: Does the dough have a strong, springy feeling?
5. UNIFORMITY: Does the dough work up the same in every batch so that your bread is always good?

There are many flours, including well advertised brands that can stand three or four tests, but there are few that can stand the "all 5" test. The lack of any one of these qualities results in less satisfactory baking and requires all 5 of these qualities to make the best bread. BIG JO has stood the "all 5" test for 40 years. We GUARANTEE that BIG JO will stand EVERYONE of these tests.

Keeps bread fresh longer

Besides measuring up to the "all 5" test for good flour, BIG JO possesses a special quality of keeping bread FRESH LONGER. This is because BIG JO is made from strong hard wheat—extra rich in gluten which absorbs more water in making dough. This EXTRA absorbed water keeps bread or pastry fresh much longer. Try a sack of BIG JO today and see how much longer your bread or pastry stays FRESH. Phone your grocer NOW.

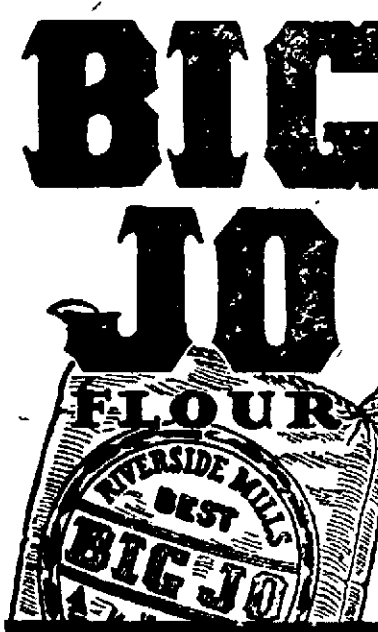

More bakings per sack

This water absorbing quality of BIG JO flour—due to the use of strong hard wheat rich in gluten—makes BIG JO an economical flour. A sack of BIG JO will go further because you use LESS FLOUR to get the same size loaf. If you want the best bread from BIG JO, scant your flour. Less flour to each baking. Try a sack of BIG JO today and see how much flour you save on each baking.

Money-Back GUARANTEE

Phone your grocer now for a sack of BIG JO. Try several bakings of bread, biscuits, pie or cake. Make the "all 5" test. See how much flour you save. See how much longer your bread or cake stays fresh. See why many housewives who, when they were little girls, learned from their mothers to use BIG JO flour, still use BIG JO today. Then if you do not feel that you are more satisfied with BIG JO than any flour you ever used—that it saves you money—that your bread stays fresh longer and that you are truly DELIGHTED, return the unused portion of the sack to your grocer and money paid for entire sack will be cheerfully refunded. Isn't that fair?

KAUKAUNA HIGHS LOSE STAR HALF IN DUMMY DRILL

Mac McFadden Breaks Collarbone as First Casualty of Smithmen's Hardest Season

Kaukauna — One of the hardest blows suffered by a Kaukauna high school football squad in several years, fell to Coach Tiger Bill Smith's 1925 Orange and Black warriors late Wednesday afternoon when James "Mac" McFadden, the most promising halfback, out for the local crew, broke a collarbone in tackling the dummy. Mac was regarded as one of the best backs the Electric city has seen in some time and was expected to lead the local eleven in holding some of the strong squad on its schedule.

TACKLES LOOK GOOD
The accident the first of the season here, occurred after the last scrimmage of the week had been completed and the boys were ready to leave the field. Most of the crew was a last shot at the dummy and Mac landed on the collarbone as he brought the figure to the ground. It will be out all season. The glow which hung about the playing field was lightened somewhat, however, by the line showing of two line recruits, Lester Worley and Tom Minski, both of whom reported for the first time this week. These youths, both weighing about 160 pounds, showed plenty of stuff and promise to develop into first-class tackles. This will fill two of the weakest holes in the Tiger's line and will give the local squad a line as good as that of practically every team they meet.

WORK FOR SHAWANO
Hard scrimmage and work for the game with Shawano, 1924 Wisconsin River Valley conference champs, at Shawano Saturday, occupied most of the week and the Smithmen look good to give the veteran Curtis squad a real fight even in defeat. The backfield looks good and the line much better since the new additions, but Tiger Bill still refuses to say much for his squad. Shawano has a veteran first squad of 33 men, 23 of whom are seniors and have played at least one year on the Curtis team. Only 11 of the first stringers live in the city of Shawano, the rest being drawn from the numerous rural hamlets in hailing distance. About 200 local fans are expected to accompany the local highs to Shawano.

WESTERN SQUADS READY TO START

Big Ten Teams Put in Hard Workouts for Season's Opener a Week from Saturday

Chicago — Only gloom prevails at Notre Dame as it ends preparations Friday for its football curtain raiser with Baylor University of Texas Saturday at South Bend.

Knute Rockne, wizard coach, expects to lose the season's opener to the Texans.

Followers of Notre Dame, however, are a bit skeptical of Rockne's bearish reports. They believe his attitude may be only a part of his tactics.

Other Midwestern teams, a week removed from their opening conflicts, are starting fulltime scrimmages in efforts to show up weak points and uncover any "finds" among the hopefuls.

Because of injuries, Coach Thistlewaite is easing up the Northwestern practices sessions. Signal drill and short passing scrimmage constitutes the bulk of the week end workouts.

Coach Zupke of Illinois and Coach Beary of Nebraska have agreed to send a scout each to watch the varsity freshmen games that each will play Saturday.

The Huskers and Illini meet a week from Saturday.

Coach Wilce of Ohio state is stressing skill practice as a climax to a week of work at tackling dummies and forward pass formations.

Lawrence Works Hard For Game With Oshkosh Normal

With little more than a week before the opening game of the 1925 schedule against the strong Oshkosh Normal school eleven here Oct. 3, Coach Mark S. Catlin and his Lawrence college football aces got down to work in earnest this week. Catlin put his men through their first scrimmage of the season working them against a powerful Freshman line-up.

The scrimmages so far have confirmed predictions at the opening of practice last week. The backfield is driving with a speed and a certainty that is mid-season in form, but the line is at times, in fact, most of the time, woefully weak.

Big holes in the forward wall, caused by the graduation of Stoll and Cooke, ends, and Gander, guard, and the failure of Dunham, tackle to return to school, are forcing Catlin to work overtime in his effort to draft a line which will be able to open holes for the plumping backfield.

BACKFIELDERS IN LINE
Bayer, of last year's first squad, probably will make one end berth, while Briesch has been shifted from the backfield to the other end position. Counsell, who was an all-conference guard last season, Weinlauf and Steensland are showing up strongest at guard places, with Premo and Boettcher shaping up well for tackles. Premo won his letter in the line in 1923 but was out of school last year. Boettcher is another man who has been shifted from the backfield into the front wall.

Coach Basing's Freshman squad has made great strides in its practice this week and is rapidly developing into the strongest freshman lineup in Lawrence history. In several scrimmages against the varsity, they have given the big boys all the competition desired.

KOTAL AT FULLBACK
Capt. Eddie Kotal in the scrimmages so far has been working in fullback place with Jake Zussman calling the signals at quarter. Heidem, Nason and Nobles have been working regularly at halfback places while Ninder, a halfback man in the days of the S. A. T. C., back to complete his education, has been given several workouts.

Catlin's policy of no headgear or shoulder pads for his grid proteges has so far brought no injuries to the Blue camp. The only injury of the week was sustained in Tuesday's scrimmage by Nason, varsity halfback, who tore a ligament in his leg.

GRID HEROES GET ACTION SATURDAY

Notre Dame Battles Baylor, 1924 Southwestern Champs, to Feature Opening Games

New York — Football's steady march to new heights of competition and popular interest apparently will have increased momentum in the season which has its main kick-off Saturday in various sections of the country.

The campaign of 1924, starting in many respects set new marks, but 1925 is expected to see most of these records displaced. With new stadi, this fall's battles should shatter all previous attendance standards.

Public interest will be spurred by brilliant conflicts, east and west, with more than two score inter-sectional frays.

NOTRE DAME VS BAYLOR
Inter-sectional strife starts Saturday when Notre Dame, the nation's outstanding eleven last fall, meets Baylor University of Texas, champion of the Southwestern Conference at South Bend. Many of the individual satellites of 1924 have passed from the gridiron but the most brilliant of all, Red Grange of Illinois, will be back to captain his team in his final season.

He will campaign through eastern as well as western fields.

The University of California has gone through five straight seasons without setback and begins its campaign for a sixth Saturday.

For the most part tomorrow's opening games will amount to only preliminary flourishes for major colleges priming themselves for bigger quarry.

CUYLER OF BUCS OUT FOR SEVERAL HONORS

Pittsburg — Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler, youthful sensation of the Pirates, may not top the old circuit in clouting this season but he at least seems certain of winning several other individual honors.

One of these is in scoring runs, another in garnering triples and still another in stealing bases. At this writing he's quite a bit out in front in run-scoring, having crossed the pan 10 more times than has Hornsby, his closest competitor. He's got an average of better than one run to the fricas.

In crashing out triples, Cuyler is showing his heels to the rest of the field by a wide margin. He tops both major leagues in this respect, being some half a dozen in the lead of the best three bagger swatsmen in the big show.

In swiping hassocks, Cuyler is finding a bunch of competition from his team-mate, Carey, generally acknowledged the base stealing king in the old circuit. Cuyler stands an even chance to win, however.

The Pirate tot is also right near the top in another department of play—hitting two-ply smashes. True, Bottomley of the Cards is at present showing the way, but Cuyler is only a few behind and may yet overhaul the present leader.

All in all, Cuyler is having quite a successful year, despite the fact that it is only his second as a regular in the main tent.

18 MACKS UNABLE TO WIN BALL GAME

Connie Mack injected 18 players into the game in which Sam Jones of the Yankees held the Athletics to a pair of hits. Five were trotted out as pinch-batters and three pitchers were also used. But the Mack's couldn't stave off defeat.

When it comes to area Los Angeles is the largest city in the United States. The city covers 350 square miles.

THREE TYGERS NEAR TOP OF SWAT LIST

From present indications it appears that Detroit will have three batters among the leading five clubbers in the American League this season. They are Cobb, Heilmann and Wingo. The latter, especially, has displayed consistent hitting ability, being only a youngster.

NINE VITAL FACTS

Here, in brief form, we present for your information nine vital facts underlying the success of Dodge Brothers, Inc., and the goodness and value of their product.

Dodge Brothers, Inc., consider these facts so fundamentally important to the motor car buyer that they will be repeated, from time to time, until every newspaper reader in America may be presumed to have read them:

Dodge Brothers, during the past eleven years, have built and sold more than one million four hundred thousand motor cars—and more than 90% of these cars are still in service. This record requires no comment. It stands impressively alone in motor car history.

It has never been Dodge Brothers policy to build yearly models. When an improvement, that is really an improvement, is discovered, it is made at once. Their slogan, "Constantly Improved But No Yearly Models" is familiar the world over.

Dodge Brothers build one chassis and only one. This policy materially lowers manufacturing cost. It also enables Dodge Brothers engineers to concentrate their entire time and thought on the betterment of this one type.

Dodge Brothers have never had an "off year" or an "off car." This is because they have never used the public as a testing ground for "new models" or lowered the quality of their product in the slightest degree. Every change has been an improvement on the original design.

Dodge Brothers pioneered in building the first all-steel open car and the first all-steel closed car. These epochal developments have saved Dodge Brothers owners many millions of dollars by materially prolonging motor car life and by effecting marked economies in manufacture. This construction has also reduced incalculably the danger from accident and fire.

Dodge Brothers sell directly through their dealers to the purchaser. There are no sectional distributing agencies to increase the cost of distribution and the cost of the car.

Dodge Brothers have never given so-called "free service." The car is sold at a fair and honest price. Nothing is added to this original purchase price to pay for service that the owner may never need.

Dodge Brothers Dealers were pioneers in unanimously adopting the flat rate service system. By this system, the owner knows in advance what any service job will cost. There are no unpleasant surprises in his bills.

The sturdiness and long life of Dodge Brothers Motor Car is reflected in its resale value. Comparatively few Dodge Brothers Motor Cars are advertised in the resale columns of the newspapers. The values they bring testify unanswerably to their goodness—and the public's belief in their goodness:

The purchase of an automobile is a serious and important business. The time has passed when transient novelties can lead a thoughtful buyer to overlook the great essentials of motor car worth.

A few of these essentials are clearly outlined above. They go far to explain why Dodge Brothers name is accepted, the world over, as the hall mark of dollar-for-dollar value.

JEWES OBSERVE SOLEMN FEAST OVER WEEKEND

Special Services in Synagogues to Celebrate Most Important Holiday on Hebrew Calendar

The most solemn of the Hebrew holidays of the year, Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, will be celebrated by Appleton Jews Sunday evening and Monday. The holiday falls on Monday, but the actual observance starts on the previous evening at sunset, following the Jewish custom by which all holidays begin at sunset instead of at midnight. Services will be held in the two local synagogues Sunday evening and all day Monday and the public is invited to attend. Services at Moses Montefiore synagogue at the corner of E. Atlantic and S. Bateman streets, under the direction of Rabbi A. Zussman, will start at 5 o'clock Sunday evening and at 7 o'clock Monday morning, continuing throughout the entire day without a recess. Services at Zion Temple, corner of E. Harris and S. Dukewests, under the direction of Rabbi Joshua Libman, will start at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening and at 9:30 Monday morning with a recess at 12 o'clock. Afternoon services will continue at 1 o'clock. Part of the solemnization of the holiday is an all-day fast observed by Jews.

According to the Bible, the Day of Atonement, which is ordained to be observed on the tenth day of the seventh month of the Jewish calendar, was set aside as an occasion for "afflicting one's soul." This Levitical command was interpreted by the rabbis to mean passing the day in prayer and fasting in the House of God. This discipline has been observed by Jews for more than three thousand years, two thousand of which they have passed scattered over the world.

The Bible readings for Yom Kippur throw an interesting light upon its significance. In the morning, a powerful sermon from the book of Isaiah is read, chapters 57 and 58, containing the criticism of an inspired seer during the Exile in Babylon against the formalism of the people and insisting that the acceptable way of worshipping God is through moral and humanitarian personal conduct. "Is not this rather the fast that I have chosen—to open the bands of wickedness, to undo the bands of the yoke, and to let the oppressed go free? It is not to deal thy bread to the hungry and that thou bring the afflicted poor into thy house? When thou seest the naked that thou clothe him, and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh."

Another beautiful lesson is taught in the Bible reading of the afternoon, when the Book of Jonah is read. Jonah has declined the command of God to preach the divine word to the sinners at Nineveh. He could not grasp the ideal that God was not interested only in one national group, but, as a loving and merciful father, he was equally interested in all the peoples of the world. So, on Yom Kippur the synagogue is filled with the sense of the universality of God, of man's responsibility to His Law, and of the divine guidance and mercy which give life meaning and worth and beauty.

EDUCATION CHANGING JAPANESE WOMEN

Miss Eleanor Burnett, head of the English department of Kobe college, Japan, told the Womens Missionary society of the Congregational church at the meeting Wednesday

TEMPERATURE DROPS TO 38 DEGREES THIS MORNING

Appleton people, who were fooled by the bright sunshine early Friday morning, and went to work minus their overcoats had quite a bit of shivering to do before they got to their places of business, and even after that, if they did not find a furnace fire awaiting them. The temperature recorded by the Schlafert Hardware Co. thermometer at about 8 o'clock Friday morning was 38 degrees. Some Appleton thermometers were as low as 30 degrees at about 8 o'clock in the morning. A light frost was reported Thursday night.

APPLETON YOUNG MAN ORDAINED AS DEACON

The Rev. Herman J. Schmitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Schmitz, 517 W. Seventh st., was among a class of 20 to be ordained as deacons at St. Francis' seminary on Sunday, Sept. 20. Archbishop Messmer conducted the ordination services. Among others in the group from the Green Bay diocese were the Rev. Frank Melchers of Kaukauna, the Rev. Omar Champagne of Green Bay, the Rev. William Grossel, the Rev. Nicholas Langenfeld of New Holstein, the Rev. Herman Chucks of Chilton and the Rev. Edward Wagner of Cleveland. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Schmitz and family attended the ordination services.

Afternoon in the church parlors, how Japanese women and girls have changed since they have had the privilege of attending college. She spoke of the work the college was doing in international relations and of the "good feeling" the school engenders toward America. Even the homes of the Japanese have changed since the women have been receiving higher education, Miss Burnett said. Kobe college was the first Christian college for girls in western Japan. The building is not large enough to accommodate all the young women who wish to receive higher education, so funds are being raised to erect additional college buildings.

Mrs. John Wilson had charge of the devotions and Mrs. Frank Hammer was hostess. Mrs. T. E. Orison had charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Otto of Three River, Mich., will arrive in Appleton Friday to visit for several days.

Autumn Fashions for the Very Young Man

The young man from three to eight years is having very special attention this fall from the originators of the smart new fashions. He will be well dressed in these suits from Pettibone's.

Clever Jerseys and Tweeds

Jersey suits in the useful and good-looking middie style are made in combinations of blue and tan and brown and tan. They are trimmed in the regulation style with braid and buttons. $3.95 and $4.95. Tweeds in tan and gray, part wool, are $3.95. Suits of broadcloth and jersey in blue and tan and tan and brown are $3.15.

Two-Piece Wool Suits

Two-piece suits, all wool, and very smartly made with blouse and short pants forming one piece and the small coat the other, are a good value at $7.75. These come in the three to eight year sizes and in colors of gray and tan.

Special Bargain at $1.98

So well made and durable a suit as this is most unusual at the price of $1.98. It is part wool and comes in brown, green, gray and blue. This suit would be excellent for early fall wear at school. The young man will be proud of it.
